PEL SKIPPER Andy Cohen kept his bullpen active in relief of starter Hy Cohen. He finally departed in the seventh. George Witt, knocked out Sunday, came on and Don Kildoo took over to retire Meeks and Montag in the ninth.

Montag and Daniels paced the Crackers' eight-hit attack. The former had a homer and triple, Daniels a single and double. Johnny Powers, always a nemesis to the Crackers, had a double and single and Al Grunwald delivered a two-run triple in the first.

Charlie Bicknell was to pitch the third game of the series for Atlanta, facing the Pels' Ronnie Blackburn.
