

From The Files

10 YEARS AGO TODAY:

Hurricane Dora was expected to bring 10-foot waves to the Florida coast. Traveling at a speed of 125 miles an hour, the hurricane was 450 miles wide, and residents along the coast from Cape Kennedy north to the state border were evacuating their homes.

The local budget for schools was expected to be $600,000 higher than the previous year's. The total would be over $3 million. Reason for the larger budget was the increased enrollment resulting in the continuing need for new schools and more classroom space.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY:

The Denver Bears baseball team won a Western League pennant, its second under manager Andy Cohen. The team defeated the 1953 champions, Colorado Springs, 12-2. Under manager Cohen the Bears also had won two second place designations.

40 YEARS AGO TODAY:

A pre-election count after the registration deadline revealed that there were 6,610 registered voters in Fort Collins. There were five wards, with two precincts in each ward, giving 10 polling places for voters.