Benefit baseball game to pit exes against varsity

A benefit baseball game will be played April 29 between former UT El Paso exes and the 1973 team in honor of Adolfo Lopez Jr., ex-school player who died recently of cancer.

Game time is set for 1 p.m. at Dudley Field.

Lopez was a defensive standout on Coach Andy Cohen's 1964 and 1965 team. He had been a coach in the El Paso independent School District and coached at Aoy School, where he produced several top football and basketball teams.

His widow, Yolanda, plans to return to classes this summer and finish out her education degree and requirements.

The current Miner players which includes Mark Miller, Glenn Villareal, Eloy Alvarado and Bob Knox will face some exes still playing in local leagues.

On mound duty the exes will be Mike Barraqueta, Lynn Hunt, Jesse Lujan, Don Wilson, Terry Witt and Bob Geske. Infielding chores will be handled by Bufe Morrison, former UT El Paso All-American; Joe Carrasco, Danny Blanco and Jack Harris, ex-pro. The outfield will shared by Toby Tovar, J Christopher, Larry McFarlin, an ex-pro; Charlie Arcinie Frank Del Toro and John Miller.

Catching for the exes will Bob Berryhill, Cisco Luevanos a Rick Witt. The exes will coached by Syd Cohen and Orvi Kruschwitz.

It is hoped the benefit game will become an annual event to establish some baseball scholarships, according to benefit official.

Tickets can be picked up in the Intramural Sports Office, Cool or the Del Norte Department Store. Cost of a ticket is $1.
