

February 7, 1975

Sports Briefs

With Gator Paulings last second tip-in the UT El Paso Miner Basketball team pulled away a victory from the University of New Mexico Lobo basketball team. But at the peak of their momentum the Miners will have to break as they are on leave for one week.

The Miners will take on the Wyoming Cowboys Friday Feb. 14, in Wyoming. The following night they take on the Colorado State Rams in Fort Collins.

With an overall record of 14-4, the Miners are 4-3 in Western Athletic Conference play. They are still ranked as number one in the nation with team defense.

* *

Spring sports tickets are on sale at the South end of the Sun Bowl. These tickets are good for all the Miner home track meets and all the home baseball games. For $15 the entire family can attend 5 track meets and 28 baseball games.

* * *

While on the topic of baseball, Andy Cohen is preparing to introduce his 1975 baseball team at 1 p.m., against the Texas Tech Red Raiders.

* * *

Ed Lynum, senior forward for the Miner basketball team has 20,680 votes in the Pizza Hut basketball classic voting. Ranked only 23, Lynum is still vying to place in the top ten.

Lynum has been averaging 8.1 points per game and has been averaging 4.7 rebounds per game. His total for the season is 85 rebounds with 146 total points.

David Thompson of North Carolina State is in the lead with 56,821. Steve Green the Indians forward is in very close contention with 49,783 votes.

The top eight votegetters on each squad are extended automatic invitations to participate in the NCAA and NAIA-sanctioned charity event to be played April 15 in the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Balloting at the nation's 1,750 Pizza Hut restaurants and participating universities will conclude March 8.