

Seven new Southern League managers

The turnover in managers and players in the Southern League for 1957 is terrific. There will be seven new managers, and all but complete changes in playing personnel for Birmingham, Little Rock and New Orleans.

Cal Ermer, 32, will be back with the Chattanooga Lookouts for his sixth consecutive year. He has been assured that the parent club (Washington) will not treat its Class AA club like a stepson in poor standing.

ERMER

Earl Mann named the popular Buddy Bates as manager of the Crackers over the week-end. Through the long history of Atlanta clubs, never has there been a more popular player than Buddy Bates at Ponce-de Leon Park.

Nashville will have a playing manager in Dick Sisler, son of the great George Sisler. He certainly should help the Vols with his stick work.

New Orleans, trying to straighten out financial troubles, has yet to name a manager.

Atlanta—Buddy Bates succeeds Clyde King, pennant-winning manager.

Birmingham—Johnny Pesky succeeds Phil Page, onetime second place and onetime fourth place manager.

Chattanooga—Cal Ermer now holds the record for most consecutive years as manager of Lookouts.

Little Rock—Al Evans succeeds hard-working Steve Souchack.

Memphis—Lou Klein succeeds Don Griffin, who succeeded fiery Jack Cassini before the 1956 season was over.

Mobile—Don Haefner succeeds the popular Jo-Jo White.

Nashville—Dick Sisler succeeds Ernie White.

New Orleans—No successor has been named for Andy Cohen.
