

Benny Marshall Says:

Dept. of here and there. . . .

TWO GAMES, two hits, two home runs for Ted Williams, the thumper who hasn't forgotten how. . . . His tape-measure blast Monday at Washington reminded Williams fans of another opening day. This one was in 1946 when he'd come back from the war. Teddy blasted a 430-footer in honor of that occasion. . . . The old boy's not through yet. . . .

It might have escaped attention, but good friend Dandy Andy Cohen, the ex-Alabama Crimson Tidesman who was by here managing New Orleans, has just now retired with the best managerial record in the big leagues. . . .

Andy handled the Phils that day Eddie Sawyer quit and Gene Mauch was coming on. They won for Andy. The Cohen percentage thus, 1,000. Beat it.

Football men had best be careful around Georgia Tech. . . . First, Coach Bobby Dodd pulled up lame after a tennis match and must have an operation when Spring football is done. Then, the other night in a fraternity softball game, Quarterback Fred Braselton and End Jimmy Beasley ran together so vigorously that each wound up in the hospital, each with a broken nose.

'Twas last August when Quarterback Stan Gann shot himself in the leg practicing the fast draw. . . . Stan has recovered completely. He's developing into a Spring star, passing, it's assumed, not reaching for the six-gun.
