

Around El Paso

By RUBY BURNS

Auxiliary to the University of Texas at El Paso presented a check for $2,700 for scholarships to Dr. Joseph M. Ray at a luncheon meeting Thursday in Desert Hills. Mrs. Joseph F. Irvin, auxiliary president, presided and announced the presentation. She wore a white eyelet frock, green carnation corsage, and small hat covered with white lilacs.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Louise Resley, dean of women at U.T. El Paso, were special guests. Mrs. Ray wore a white silk suit and Mrs. Resley a deep poudre blue knit sheath.

New officers installed were Mrs. Willis Sample, president, wearing a navy dress and hat with white accents and a green carnation corsage; Mrs. Charles E. Dyer Jr. in suit of pink muted plaid and Mrs. Clyde Wingfield in vibrant orange, vice presidents; Mrs. George Weisheit Jr. and Mrs. Harry Moore Jr., secretaries, the former in black and white print sheath and the latter in white silk and Mrs. J. D. DeGroat, treasurer, wearing a yellow ensemble.

Ruby Burns

Mrs. R. E. Ruebush, installing officer, wore a pink dress and white hat. Luncheon chairmen were Mrs. Thomas V. Cramer and Mrs. T. J. Higdon, Ruth Cramer in pink linen and Mrs. Higdon in white.

Tables, spread with green linen were decorated with black-sprayed tree branches hung with glistening discs in varied hues, with green tulle at the base. "Jewels of Wisdom" was theme of the party.

* * *

Leaving Desert Hills, I drove to the Corona Restaurant in Juarez where Carolina (Mrs. Enrique) Ledesma, director of Pan American Round Table, was hostess at a luncheon for complimentary members of the Round Table. About 28 persons were present including Mrs. Judson Williams, wife of the mayor of El Paso; representatives of official life in El Paso, Juarez and the military installations and foreign liaison officers. Among those from Ft. Bliss whom I saw were Mrs. Robert Safford, Mrs. Landon Witt and Mrs. Cramer Williams, along with the wife of a former commanding general, Mrs. George T. Powers. Wife of the commanding general of William Beaumont General Hospital, Mrs. James A. Wier, and others represented WBGH.

Mrs. Ledesma wore for the day a navy textured silk dress and flower hat. Seated with her was Mary (Mrs. Delphin) vonBriesen, the incoming director, wearing a navy crepe dress accented with polka-dot ruffles at neckline and cuffs. A low arrangement of peach mums and carnations decorated the long table.

Installation of new officers of the Round Table will be held at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday in El Paso Country Club.

* * *

Jottings from the American scene: An El Paso woman who was following the golfers in a tournament in Las Vegas late last month was surprised to see a woman in the gallery across the fairway wearing a full-length mink coat and walking barefooted. "We couldn't explain it," she said, "unless the woman or her husband had just made a bundle at the casino and the mink was so brand new she just had to show it off," the El Pasoan said.

* * *

Mrs. David Kelly Jr. will entertain Miss Marsha Bennett, a graduating senior at Ysleta High School, at a luncheon at noon Saturday in the Ft. Bliss Officers Club. Miss Terry Bennett will serve at the tea table.

* * *

Miss Marina Allen Cohen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Cohen, 4341 N. Stanton, is a candidate for an associate of arts degree from Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., at 9 a.m. Monday.

* * *

Miss Carmencita Watts of El Paso is among graduates of Loretto Heights College in Denver, Colo., receiving B.A. degrees in ceremonies Saturday.