AMARILLO, June 4. — The Sun Kings have found that the best way to gain on the Albuquerque Dodgers in the Western Division race of the Texas League is to be idle.

Sunday, the Kings won over the San Antonio Missions in a single game 5-3. Despite the win, El Paso lost ground to the league-leading Dodgers.

However, they gained a half game last night even though their twinbill with the San Antonio club was rained out. While they were idle, the Dodgers bowed to the Amarillo Giants 5-1 on the seven-hit pitching of Larry Tolliver.

THE KINGS flew to Amarillo after their rainout last night and will face the Giants in a four-game series starting tonight. A twinbill will be played tomorrow. It will make up for a rain out on an earlier Sun Kings trip to Amarillo.

Andy Cohen was in charge of the Kings for the Amarillo series. Chuck Tanner, the regular manager, flew to Newcastle, Pa., to see his son, Mark, graduate from high school and will not return until the Kings face Albuquerque in a series at Albuquerque starting Friday.

TOM MURPHY, who joined the Kings last week and was credited with a 5-4 victory over Amarillo in El Paso, will face the Giants tonight.

Don Wilkinson, recovering from an injured heel, likely will not play tonight.

In Texas League action last night, Arkansas edged Shreveport 2-1 and Memphis pounded Dallas-Fort Worth 9-4.
