As I Was Saying — BOB INGRAM, SPORTS EDITOR

All Hail Their Majesties!

WHAT A YEAR THIS has already been for El Paso in sports. Lee Trevino became the U.S. Open golf champion. Skee Foremsky won the Canadian pro bowling crown. AND the Sun Kings are champions of the Texas League that stretches from almost to the Rockies in the West to the Mississippi River. This week's astute salute to all of the Kings. When I saw 'em in spring training I figured they'd be a good team but didn't thing about them winning the Texas League crown. The California Angel farm organization has come a long way since the big Angels put a club here in 1965 and had it end in the cellar of the Texas League. They were the Kinks then. Now they are REALLY the Kings. On to weekending and things most noteworthy: Another salute to Andy Messersmith, who was pitching for the Kings last season, and won his major league starting bow 4-0 for the Calif. Angels over Boston last night. If Messersmith had been in the TL league this year, he and Rich Folkers of Memphis would have been a good combination. Their names sound like German warplanes. Sign at a drive in store here: "Our shotgun shells are for the birds." Overheard at Dudley Field this week: "Come on, umpire, you're missing a good game." Famous Chucks: —— Tanner, wood——, —— Connors, —— wagon, —— Whitlock, —— roast. And did you hear about the manager who told his player to always keep the trademark of the bat up when he went to bat? "I'm going up there to hit, not to read," the player said.

West Disappoints Cincy Reds

TONY ROBELLO, scout for the Cincinnati Reds, watched part of the Texas League playoff series. He said he was bitterly disappointed when Charley West quit baseball and signed with the Minnesota Vikings. "He was sure to make it big in the majors," said Robello. "He was just beginning to come around in batting at Tampa (Reds farm in the Florida State League). The Minnesota people pestered him to death. They had two or three men on him all the time." Even though he wanted to keep West for the Reds, Robello was happy to see Charley make such an auspicious pro football bow as he did for the Vikings against the St. Louis Cardinals last Monday. West returned punts and kickoffs for considerable yardage. "He's going to make it big in pro football, too," Robello said. What they're doing now: Willie Cager, a member of the U.T. El Paso national basketball champions, is running his own Lawn Health and Pest Control Service. Anyone wanting to avail themselves of such service, call 532-6581. Willie said he's preparing a statement in regards to the quotations attributed to him in the Sports I series. Roger Craig, manager of the Albuquerque Dodgers, likely will be pitching coach of the new San Diego team in the National League. Dallas-Fort Worth led TL attendance again with 215,956. Arkansas had 103,000 plus, Albuquerque 133,076. Amarillo is planning new lights for its park next season. Mary Huana said she thinks it's awfully cruel for the pro football teams to be cutting players.

Ruidoso's 'Run For The Noses'

CARLOS SALAZAR of Albuquerque has appropriately dubbed the All-American Futurity at Ruidoso as the "Run for the Noses." Was there ever a quarterhorse race of importance that there wasn't a photographic finish? Look Magazine has picked the U.T. El Paso Miners to defeat Arizona State this year. I've almost begun to think the Law of Averages was repealed as far as this game was concerned. The managers of both teams in the Texas League playoff are former pupils of Andy Cohen. Rapp was a catcher for Denver when Andy managed that club and Tanner played for him at Eau Claire in the Northern League. Andy called Tanner aside before the season started and told him this was the year he should win, that it might be okay with the big league bosses for him to produce talent and lose for awhile but not to keep the losing image very long. Sul Ross claims to have the highest football field in Texas: 4481 feet above sea level. Lamar Tech of Beaumont has the lowest: 24 feet. Ed Sennett, the little Sun Kings knuckle ball reliefer, has ambitions of being another Hoyt Wilhelm. "My fast ball would get me no farther than Class A," he said. "But I believe with my knuckler I can make it to the majors and stay a long time there. The knuckler doesn't take much out of your arm." With the Kings finishing the Texas League playoff, now to football. Not quite. How about the windup of the American and National Leagues and then the World Series?

They're Champs of TL . . . Spencer Sent Home on Wilkinson Double

Kings Gambled, Won It All

The Sun Kings, according to Chuck Tanner, gambled and won the Texas League championship.

Speaking of sending Jim Spencer home from third base in the eighth inning last night in the fourth game of the Texas League title series with Arkansas, Tanner said, "I took a chance. I could have played it safe and held him at third. But we're not a safety first ball club. We got where we are by doing some gambling this season."

THE SCORE WAS tied 3-3. With one away in the eighth, Spencer laced a single to right field. Don Wilkinson then cracked the left field fence with a double. Spencer had third made easily but Tanner waved him on and the El Paso first baseman, not exceedingly fast, appeared to start sliding halfway between third and home. Although the ball may have reached the hands of the Arkansas catcher, John Ruberto, before the runner did, Spencer hook slid into the bag, getting to it before he was tagged, according to the ruling of Umpire Scotty Harris.

It invoked the biggest fuss of the series with manager Vernon Ropp storming at Harris. But the decision stood and the Kings became the champions of the Texas League by winning the game 4-3.

SAYING IT WAS the biggest thrill of his life, Tanner flew to Anaheim today with three members of the Kings who'll join the California Angels. They're Spencer, Jarvis Tatum and Rudy Moy. It's reported that Tanner will manage the Hawaiian team in the Pacific Coast League next year. He'll have several members of his team this year there probably with him.

"Up until now," Tanner said, "my biggest thrill was hitting a homerun on the first pitch of my first appearance in the plate in the big leagues. But winning the Texas League championship beats that."

When Spencer crossed the plate he was picked up bodily by catcher Dennis Paepke and carried almost to the dugout. When the game ended in the top of the ninth, the players pounded pitcher Wally Wolf hard and started a clubhouse celebration that lasted for some hours.

THE KINGS had not hit a homerun until last night's game. They made up for it with three successive ones in the first inning, which can be claimed as a Texas League record. Maybe it's a record for any playoff.

Tom Silverio, who has made it a habit to get leadoff homers in games this season, sent the ball over the left field fence in the first inning. Jarvis Tatum followed with a harder hit homerun to left center and then Spencer drove the ball over the right field fence.

Did Tanner think the Kings had the game won then? "No, I knew we didn't. I knew Arkansas would come back."

The Travs did. Joe DiFabio, starting pitcher, recovered from the shock of the homers. He and his successor, Jerry Reuss, held the Kings without any more runs. They scored the winning one off Joe Hamende in the eighth.

MEANTIME, the Travs got three runs. One was unearned in the third. But they hit Vernon Geishert hard to get two more in the fourth.

Then Wally Wolf came in and stopped them.

"I was in control all the way," Wally said. "I felt like I could pitch all night."

He held Arkansas to two hits in five and two thirds innings.

He started off by fanning Leron Lee at the top of the ninth inning. Marty Perez made a nice running and leaping catch of Billy Murphy's fly for the second out. Then Billy Wolff singled off Wolf. When he tried to steal second, Paepke threw him out, with Gordie Avery taking the throw, to end the game.

"I put everything I had into that throw," Paepke said.

"What a way to end the game," said coach Andy Cohen. "That was as good a throw as you'll ever see in the big leagues. It was right on the button."

Miners Just Got a Week to Go

To Face Gauchos; Few Team Changes

It's just a week away—the Miners' first football game of the season.

They play University of California at Santa Barbara in the Sun Bowl next Saturday night.

Bobby Dobbs will have 'em ready even if injuries have hit the squad harder this fall than any past team coached by Dobbs here has been struck. There have been as many as 14 players sidelined at one time or another.

"WE HAVE accomplished quite a bit in two weeks," said Dobbs, pointing to the fact that the two-a-day sessions have ended and that in the one-a-day next week, the Miners will ease up to bring back spring in tired legs and to let injuries heal.

Although the Miners defeated Santa Barbara easily last season, 50-14, Dobbs is not anticipating any picnic this year, he says. "They gave us a battle in the first half last year," he said. "And in Tom Broadhead, the Californians have one of the best backs in the country."

It'll be another homecoming for Jack Curtice, coach of the Californians who used to play the same role at UTEP. His son, Jimmy, born in El Paso, is rated a good scrambling quarterback. He's been throwing well to a variety of receivers. Curtice has complimented the receivers and the pass plays of his son.

DOBBS HAS DONE some shuffling around. The changes of players on different teams may not be significant. It may take the opening game to make much of an evaluation.

Brooks Dawson remains as the No. 1 quarterback and his throwing has been graded of good quality. Bob Stewart, a junior college transfer, has stepped into the No. 2 job ahead of Dennis Niemeyer. Things could change there by next Saturday.

THE DEFENSE, which is considered the most suspect department of the Miners, was not helped by the permanent loss of Mike Rhoades, 224-pound senior defensive tackle. Rohades, was advised to quit football after having had a concussion. His record shows that he had other concussions in high school play. Dobbs has moved two men to the left defensive tackle spot, hoping they'll be able to help plug the spot. They are Dennis Bishop, 235-pound junior, and Calvin Taylor, 215-pound sophomore.

Rick Saathoff, 257-pound tackle from Phoenix who was sidelined practically all last year with an injury, is out with a shoulder injury and probably will be absent for several weeks.

IN ANOTHER change, Walt Olivieri, big offensive guard, has been shuttled to the second team and has been supplanted on the first team by Tom Brummett, junior college transfer from Lubbock. Major Stevenson has replaced Ron Jones as the No. 1 team tight end. Reggie Mathews is the No. 1 running back in place of David Watkins who has been taking over for the injured Paul White. Leroy Johnson is the fullback ahead of Eugene Childs who has been slowed by injuries. Lance Winchester is playing ahead of Jerry Waddles at the linebacking spot, Dick Daugherty has replaced Leon Harden at the right corner spot and Robert Larkins has taken over temporarily, at least, for Gene Mack at a defensive end.

Franks Holds Ace Out of Gibson Duel, Wins 2 From Cards

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

Herman Franks held an ace up his sleeve while he played ou his bluff. In the end, the Cards found the Cards stacked against them.

Franks, renowned for his shadey dealing, succeeded in angering a crowd of 46,550 at Busch Memorial Stadium last night when he held out his ace pitcher, Juan Marichal, from the first game of a doubleheader and averted a confrontation between his star and Bob Gibson of the Cardinals.

He also succeeded in pulling out a doubleheader for the San Francisco Giants, 3-2 and 8-7, when Bob Bilin, who wasn't bluffing, bested Gibson and Marichal staggered to his 25th victory in the nightcap.

"WHAT'S THE difference?" replied the gruff Franks when asked why he substituted Bolin for Marichal in the first game. "The Cards could have switched if they wanted to pitch Gibson against Marichal. They could have held Gibson up."

Franks' decision provoked the fans, many of whom had apparently come to watch a showdown between the two leading pitchers in the National League, into a long chorus of boos directed at the Giants in general and Bolin in particular. The San Francisco right-hander silenced them, however, by pitching five-hit ball over the first 7 2-3 innings in outdueling Gibson.

Elsewhere, the Los Angeles Dodgers swept a doubleheader from the Cincinnati Reds 6-4 and 8-6, the Atlanta Braves hammered the Houston Astros 7-1, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Mets 2-1 and the Phillies beat the Chicago Cubs 5-2.

RON FAIRLY delivered a tie-breaking single in each game of the Dodgers' sweep, which enabled them to move into a ninth-place tie with the Mets. Fairly's single in the seventh inning of the opener gave Los Angeles a 5-4 edge after the Dodgers had scored four runs, three on Jim Lefebvre's homer, in the sixth.

Pat Jarvis scattered six hits to win his 15th game as Felipe Alou drove in three runs for the Braves with a single and sacrifice fly.

Roberto Clemente's tie-breaking homer in the fourth inning enabled Steve Blass to post his fifth straight victory for the Pirates.

Johnny Briggs smacked a tie-breaking homer leading off the ninth inning as the Phils beat the Cubs behind the seven-hit pitching or Rick Wise.

Detroit Tigers Get Closer to Pennant—

4-Day Rest Helpful, M'Lain Banks His 28th

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

The magic numbers for the Detroit Tigers and their ace pitcher, Denny McLain, are lower today thanks to an extra day off that worked wonders on the young righthander's tired arm.

McLain, trying to become the first major league pitcher in 34 years to win 30 games in one season, notched his 28th victory last night when he beat the Minnesota twins 8-3, while working with four days rest for the first time since April.

The Tiger ace, who is used to pitching every four days, got an extra day off Thursday when the Tigers weren't scheduled and was close to top form against the Twins. He allowed nine hits, including Craig Nettles' first major league homer, but struck out 12 and showed good stuff.

"I FEEL STRONG as a bull," the 24-year-old righthander remarked after his effort. "It's been a long time since I felt this good." This is the best my arm has felt since mid-July."

McLain's triumph put him two days ahead of the pace set by Lefty Grove, the last American league pitcher to win 30 games in 1931 and 19 days up on Dizzy Dean, the National League's last 30 game winner in 1934. McLain also became the first pitcher to win 28 games since Robin Roberts compiled a 28-7 mark with the 1952 Phillies.

THE TIGERS' triumph, coupled with a Baltimore loss, also reduced Detroit's pennant clinching number to 13. Any combination of Detroit victories and Baltimore losses totalling 13 will give the Tigers their first pennant since 1945.

Chicago topped Baltimore 3-2 in 11 innings, Oakland blanked Cleveland 7-0 and California defeated Boston 4-0 in other AL action. Washington at New York was postponed because of rain.

Buddy Bradford's leadoff homer in the 11th inning sent the Orioles down to their sixth loss in the last 10 games and dropped them nine games behind the Tigers in the Al race.

John Odom hurled a six-hitter for his first complete game since July 24 as the Athletics kept their hold on fifth place, over the rained-out Yankees.

Andy Messersmith, making his first Major League start, pitched hitless ball through the first 6 1-3 innings then settled for a two-hitter as the Angels downed the Red Sox.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7. — The St. Louis Hotel and Motel Assn. said that many hotel and motel rooms are still available for the World Series.

World Series of Golf Opens—

Boros is 'Human,' Lee is Thankful

United Press International

AKRON, Ohio, Sept. 7. — PGA champion Julius Boros, the paunchy graying elder statesman of Professional golf, admitted while tuning up for the World Series of Golf here that he is human after all.

But U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, British Open champion Gary Player and Masters titlist Bob Goalby, just couldn't believe it.

The 48-year-old Boros is one of golf's quickest hitters and appears to be one of the most relaxed players on the pro tour.

But the Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., native warned, "don't let that fool you."

WHEN ASKED if the pressure of such tournaments, such as this one carrying a $50,000 first place prize, bothered him, he replied:

"Everybody is different. Everybody is human and I am human. I just don't show it."

The 36 holes of medal play began today with second place worth $15,000, third place $7500 and fourth place $5000.

The 7180-yard par 70 Firestone course is rated by Boros as "one of the finest golf courses in the nation."

Boros finished second in 1963 to Jack Nicklaus in his only other appearance in the World Series of Golf.

The affable Trevino of El Paso, was a big hit with the fans as well as a fast man with a quip.

He told Player he was thankful he could finish no worse than fourth here and while posing for a photographer he cracked, "hurry up my teeth are getting dirty."

Messersmith Earns Starter's Role . . . to Face M'Lain Next

By JAMES F. COUR
United Press International

ANAHEIM, Calif., Sept. 7. — Andy Messersmith has earned himself a place in the California Angels' starting rotation.

'He's gonna start from here on out," Angel Manager Bill Rigney promised after the 23-year-old righthander pitched a two-hit shoutout against the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Messersmith's 4-0 victory snapped a five-game California losing streak it was the first major league start for Messersmith and he didn't give up a hit for 6 1-3 innings.

HIS NEXT assignment will be a tough one, though—here Tuesday night against Denny McLain, the Detroit Tigers' 28-game winner.

Messersmith's bid for a no-hitter was spoiled by Joe Foy's Bloop single in the seventh inning. Mike Andrews had a solid single in the eighth for the other Red Sox hit.

"Yeah, I knew I had a no-hitter," the Angel winner admitted. "I looked up at the scoreboard in the third inning. That's when I first noticed it."

The newest California starter joined the American League club July 1 from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League. Rigney used him in the Angel bullpen and he responded with a 2-0 record and a 1.86 earned run average in relief.

Messersmith's biggest scare came in the eighth inning when Boston loaded the bases with two out. He got Ken Harrelson to hit into a fielders choice to end the Red Sox threat.
