

Rotary Hears About Sun Kings

With basketball relinquishing its hold on the attention of El Paso sports fans, baseball once again is moving into the spotlight, El Paso Rotary Club was told Thursday.

John Phelan and Andy Cohen, officials of El Paso Sun Kings and long prominent in local baseball affairs, were principal speakers at the weekly club luncheon meeting in Hotel Paso del Norte.

They were optimistic of the Sun Kings standing in the Texas League this season with new talent assigned by the parent San Francisco Giants club of the National League. Chuck Tanner will again pilot the El Paso club that will soon enter spring training in Holtville, Calif.
