Angels Name Rocky Bridges New Sun King Manager

Stanfill Is New EP Boss

A new leadership team for the El Paso Sun Kings was named Tuesday with announcement by the California Angels that Rocky Bridges, former big league infielder and successful manager for San Jose in the California League, will be the field manager for the El Paso entry in the Texas League in 1967.

John L. Stanfill, 25-year-old Californian with five years as a baseball administrator in the Los Angeles Dodger organization, also was named Tuesday as general manager of the Sun Kings and will move to El Paso later this month to take over his post.

The action by the Angels followed swiftly their purchase of the Sun King francise from El Paso Sports Association, which had operated the club the past five years.

Bridges will take over the post held the past two years by Chuck Tanner, who has been elevated to field manager of the Seattle Angels of the Class AAA Pacific Coast League.

The strong-faced Bridges had an 11-year stay in major league infields as a classy glove man and a .247 lifetime batting average in the majors. He moved into the big time with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1951, played five years as a regular with Cincinnati and had shorter stays with Washington, Detroit, Cleveland, the Cardinals and the Angels.

He coached for the Angels in 1962-63, then in 1964 took over as skipper of the San Jose club.

His 1964 San Jose team finished third in the first half of the season and fourth the second half, both sessions showing a winning percentage on a 73-67 season.

In 1965 the San Jose club won the first half and tied for fifth in the second half for an over-all mark of 72-68, while last year San Jose was second both halves with a 77-64 season.

Bridges likes three things in life — strong cigars, golf and a running game of baseball that can be fun at the same time.

"I came up in the Brooklyn organization," he explains, "and running was stressed. I like that style. We'll try to get everybody on the move — it's more interesting that way, unless you have somebody who can hit a 'jillion' home runs.

"But for every homer that won a game, there have been singles that won many more," he said.

Bridges will report to the Angels minor league camp at Brawley, Calif., in March to get a line on the Sun Kings squad. He undoubtedly will have some members of his San Jose club advancing to the Class AA level, as well as probably some members of last season's Sun Kings back in uniform.

It is probable that he will pay a visit to his new park before spring training gets underway.

Stanfill comes to the Sun Kings highly recommended by Emil "Buzzie" Bavasi, vice president and general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, operators of the Albuquerque club.

During the past two seasons Stanfill has been the business manager of the Dodger-affiliated Spokane, Wash., Indians of the Pacific Coast League, working closely with Spokane president Peter O'Malley, son of Dodgers owner Walter O'Malley.

Prior to his two year tenure at Spokane, the new El Paso general manager worked in the Dodger main office, starting in the ticket department in the summer of 1961 in conjunction with his schooling at UCLA.

After his ticket department apprenticeship Stanfill joined the Dodgers minor league department in 1963 as a full time administrative assistant under Fresco Thompson and Bill Schweppe.

In 1965, the Dodgers appointed Stanfill Dodgertown camp supervisor at Vero Beach, Fla., where he supervised the entire administration of the camp that involved the major and minor league clubs.

The articulate Stanfill was selected by the parent Angels after reviewing and interviewing many applicants for the coveted El Paso position.

Vice president-assistant general manager Marvin Milkes and farm director and director of scouting Roland Hemond, both of whom recommended the ownership of El Paso to general manager Fred Haney and the Angel owners, were pleased with the selection of the new general manager.

"John Stanfill is one of the bright new young leaders in baseball. He has a full understanding of all phases of baseball and his major and minor league experience certainly qualifies him as a leader in a new and wonderful era for El Paso baseball," Milkes said.

Hemond remarked: "Looking at John Stanfill and his background and enthusiasm, certainly it is heartwarming to all of us as we meet the challenge in El Paso. John should blend in well with Rocky Bridges, the new field manager of the Sun Kings. He should make many friends in El Paso, and I know that he will be in constant touch with my department in trying to mold a fine ball club for the fans of El Paso."

Stanfill himself was pleased with the new assignment.

"An opportunity to be the general manager of El Paso is the greatest thrill I have received in my abbreviated baseball career. My family and I are looking forward to making our home in El Paso, becoming part of the community life of El Paso, and accepting the challenge of providing new enthusiasm on and off the field. I am extremely gratified that I will have the assistance of people like John Phelan, Andy Cohen, Fred Herschleder, Harry Elliott, Chick Arnold, Jack Niland, and the entire group that has maintained baseball interest in El Paso."

Stanfill is now being indoctrinated in the Angels offices at Anaheim Stadium and will then depart for Spokane to clean up his duties for the PCL club before setting sail for El Paso.

He will arrive in El Paso around mid-November with his wife, Pam, and nine months old daughter Kristen Michelle.

NEW SUN KING LEADERS—A new management team for the El Paso Sun Kings in the 1967 Texas League race was announced Tuesday by the California Angels general manager Fred Haney, center. Rocky Bridges, left, former major league infielder, will be the field manager for the Kings, succeeding Chuck Tanner who moves to Seattle. John L. Stanfill, right, will be the new general manager. Stanfill has been buiness manager of Spokane in the Los Angeles Dodger organization.

El Pasoans To See Mich. State-ND Tilt

New York. (AP)—The most frustrating blackout since the Eastern Seaboard power failure a year ago is scheduled Nov. 19 on ABC television and it has football fans from Portland, Ore., to a jail in Texas screaming for relief.

That is the date of the clash between Notre Dame and Michigan State, the unbeaten and top ranked college teams in the country.

But the ABC television schedule calls for the game to be regionally televised only, in a doubleheader with UCLA and Southern California, and there are no plans to change it. This regional telecast will not be seen in most of the South and the Pacific Northwest, where fans will be offered the Tennessee-Kentucky and California-Stanford games.

"They put my name in a newspaper in Portland last week as the person to complain to," said Beano Cook, ABC publicity director for college football, "and I received 350 letters, some telegrams and 10 long distance phone calls—some collect—in three days, all pleading for a change."

"If I weren't here, I would travel to see the game on television," wrote an inmate in a Texas jail to ABC Vice President Roone Arledge, "but I won't be out by Nov. 19."

As it is now, however, only Texans in El Paso can see the telecast of the game.

"The game probably will have the largest audience of any NCAA regular season regional game ever telecast," Cook said, "but somebody had to miss it.

"We get complaints every week, but this is the largest amount of frustration—not anger, but frustration—that we've had since the beginning of college telecasts."

Cook emphasized that "at this time, there is no change in the television schedule."

ABC, discussing the schedule in the spring after scouting teams throughout the country in an effort to get some idea of when the best teams meet in the most important games.

"We feel we've had the best TV schedule ever this season," Book said, "and our audience is expected to be up more than one million over last year."

The national TV schedule has included Baylor-Syracuse, Notre Dame-Purdue, USC-Texas, Missouri-UCLA and Tennessee-Georgia Tech, with Nebraska-Oklahoma, Army-Navy and Alabama-Auburn still to come.

The regional games have included Arkansas-Texas, Purdue-Michigan State, Dartmouth-Harvard and Missouri-Nebraska

But while ABC makes the schedule, the NCAA makes the rules which allow one team to be on national television only once during a year.

Baltimore Announces New Veep

Baltimore. (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles' board of directors has elected a fourth vice president for the American League and World Series Champions—but the club is still without a president.

In a meeting Monday the board elevated Comptroller Joseph P. Hamper Jr., to vice president in charge of financial administration.

Hamper had been comptroller since 1958.

Jerold C. Hoffberger, majority stockholder and chairman of the board, commented after the election: "This means we have four very good top men of the company."

The new management structure of the team emerged last fall, when Hoffberger purchased stock belonging to Joseph A. W. Iglehart and President-General Manager Lee MacPhail resigned to become the executive administrator for Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert.

MacPhail has since been named General Manager of the New York Yankees.

Following the changes J. Frank Cashen, who had been an executive assistant to Hoffberger—also President of the National Brewing Co.—was named executive vice president.

Harry I. Dalton was promoted from farm director to vice president and director of player personnel and Jack Dunn III, who had been traveling secretary, assistant to the manager and public relations director, was named vice president in charge of business affairs.

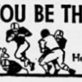
When the Dunn and Dalton promotions were announced, Hoffberger said the club presidency was "up for grabs."

However, since the Orioles won the American League Pennant and a World Series with vice presidents, Hoffberger may be reluctant to change the lineup.

NETTERS ADVANCE

Brisbane, Australia. (AP) — Tony Roche of Australia and Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., advanced to the semifinals in the men's doubles of the Queensland Lawn Tennis tournament.

YOU BE THE QUARTERBACK



By Duffy Daugherty
Head Coach, Michigan State University

ANSWER

No. 2. Call another play. Plays such as the Statue are one-time things. Play goes so deep, alert defense may toss runner into the end zone seats. A repeat of this play in a game last season resulted in a safety.

El Paso's Complete Independent Garage Since 1946

AUTO REPAIRS

- Auto Air Conditioner Service
- Complete Engine Overhaul
- Transmission Service
- Anti-Freeze & Radiator Service
- Brake Repair
- Front End Service with the finest Bear Equipment

1ST CLASS PAINT & BODY WORK Free Estimates

Ward MOTOR Clinic
2600 Wyoming 565-1447

SWC Having Troubles

Dallas, Tex. (AP) — The Southwest Conference is having its worst year since 1952 in intersectional football although it came up with the most experienced players in history.

The last chance to better the 1952 record of 13-16-0 comes Saturday night when Texas Tech plays Oklahoma State in the final intersectional test of the year. Right now the conference is 9-12-1.

It has been said that the league enjoyed its finest football when it was pass-crazy. That was in the thirties and on into the forties. The worst intersectional record then was 16-10-1.

This year the conference has thrown more passes than ever before — the average is 23.6 per team. In 1939 it was 18.2 — the biggest average until last year when it went up to 22.9.

What's that about passing making you great nationally?

The conference has more sophomores in key positions than can be recalled despite the fact that it has the most veteran strength. It would seem that this ought to indicate even better football if your sophs can beat out your veterans, who are supposed to be terrific.

But if you think the league is having trouble beating the outsiders look how tough it is for them to beat each other and how zany things can get.

Texas either has won or tied for the championship four times in the past seven years. Yet it has lost four of seven games this season and already has been eliminated from title consideration with a month to go.

Arkansas, which has won or shared the title five times in those seven years, lost its first game in 25 regular season contests to Baylor 7-0. Yet Texas A&M beat Baylor 17-13 only to be slaughtered 34-0 by Arkansas.

Another thing: Baylor beat Arkansas 7-0, Arkansas beat Texas Christian 21-0 and Texas Christian beat Baylor 6-0. Figure that out.

Rice lost to UCLA and Southern Methodist in the final seconds. Southern Methodist beat Texas in the final seconds. Field goals were the reason.

And speaking of field goals, think about this:

Bruce Alford of Texas Christian beat Texas Tech with two field goals. The score was 6-3 with Tech also getting its points on a field goal.

The next week Alford missed the extra point after a touchdown and Texas Christian lost to Auburn 7-6.

David Conway kicked two field goals against Southern Methodist. Dennis Partee kicked two field goals against Texas. Yet Conway missed the extra point after a Texas touchdown and Southern Methodist won the game 13-12.

Then to cap the whole thing, Alford kicked two field goals to beat Baylor 6-0.

In intersectional football, all the losses were to top teams — five of them among the ratings, like Nebraska, Georgia Tech, Southern California, Tennessee and UCLA. The victories have been mostly over teams that couldn't beat anybody much.

So the poor showing against intersectional opponents is for real.

Anybody for handball?

Top Four Remain In Dunkel

By DICK DUNKEL
Dunkel Research Service

Georgia Tech, Arkansas, and Tennessee charged upward in the college football rating race last Saturday, according to the Dunkel Index.

But the Top Four of Notre Dame, Michigan State, UCLA and Alabama held their accustomed positions.

Notre Dame (6-0) beat Navy, 31-7, to bring its average scoring superiority to 28.2 points per game over opposition indexed at 88.4 for the leading total of 116.6.

Other leaders, their records, and Saturday scores:

Mich. State (7-0), 22-0 over Northwestern; UCLA (6-0), 38-13 over Air Force; Alabama (6-0 27-14 over Miss State; Georgia Tech (7-0), 48-7 over Duke; Arkansas (6-1), 34-0 over Texas A&M; Tennessee (4-2), 38-7 over Army; S. California (6-1), lost 7-10 to Miami, Fla; Mississippi (5-2), 17-0 over LSU; Miami, Fla. (5-2), beat S. California.

All 650 college teams set their own indices as illustrated above. Leaders have ranked themselves as follows:

MAJORS

Notre Dame	116.6
Michigan St.	113.3
U.C.L.A.	108.0
Alabama	106.8
Georgia Tech	106.2
Arkansas	105.2
Tennessee	104.9
S. California	101.8
Mississippi	101.6
Miami, Fla.	100.1
Florida	100.0
Georgia	99.6
Purdue	99.2
Nebraska	98.2
So. Methodist	98.9
Michigan	98.6
Houston	97.0
Texas	97.0
Syracuse	95.3
UTEP	94.1
Colorado	92.5
Florida St.	91.9
Texas A&M	91.9
Illinois	91.8
Oklahoma	91.8
Baylor	91.6
Wyoming	91.4
Louisiana St.	91.3
Washington	91.1
Va. Tech	91.0
N.C. State	90.7
Texas Tech	90.5
Ohio St.	90.3
Penn St.	90.2
Navy	90.0
Tex. Christian	89.9
Minnesota	89.7
Stanford	89.2
Maryland	89.0
Memphis St.	88.7
Auburn	88.5
Colorado St.	87.1
N. Carolina	87.1
Oregon	86.8
Tulsa	86.6
Rice	86.5
Oregon St.	86.5
Missouri	86.3
Oklahoma St.	86.1
Iowa St.	85.8
Clemson	85.7
California	85.6
Northwestern	84.1
Wake Forest	83.9
Mississippi St.	83.5
Army	83.3
Brigham Young	83.1
S. Carolina	83.3
Wisconsin	82.2
Arizona St.	82.0
Utah	82.0
S. Simmissippi	81.8
Tulane	81.0
Indiana	80.9
W. Tex. State	80.9
Air Force	80.8
Miami, O.	80.8
N. Tex. State	80.1
Kentucky	80.0
N. Mex. St.	79.2
Duke	79.1
Harvard	78.6
Vanderbilt	78.4
Iowa	77.7
Dartmouth	77.5
W. Virginia	76.5

MINORS

San Diego St.	82.3
Montana St.	82.2
Tennessee St.	77.6
N. Dakota St.	75.8
N.W. Louisiana	73.4
Lamar Tech	72.8
Arlington St.	71.9
Weber St.	71.3
Drake	70.4
E. Kentucky	70.0
Muskingum	69.8
North Dakota	69.0
Delaware	68.8
Mid. Ten. St.	68.7
Arkansas St.	68.6
Texas A&I	67.4
Massachusetts	66.5
Wittenberg	66.5
N. Illinois	66.3
Tampa	66.0
Parsons	65.8
N. Michigan	65.6
Temple	65.6
Long Beach	65.5
Austin Peay	64.4
N.E. Louisiana	64.2
Tenn. Tech	64.4
Morehead St.	64.2
S.W. Louisiana	64.2
N. Arizona	63.2
Morgan St.	62.8
McNeese St.	62.6
Chattanooga	62.5

Detroit Fans Critical Of Gilmer

Detroit. (AP) — Is Detroit Lion Coach Harry Gilmer's neck under the axe?

According to fans of the National Football League, he's on his way out. As Green Bay whipped the Lions 31-7 here Sunday, they were singing, "Goodbye, Harry, we're going to see you gone."

Signs appeared in the stands saying "Bye, bye, Harry."

But the man who owns the club, Bill Ford, was quite emphatic when he said, "We're going to keep him." For Ford, it's the same tune he sang earlier this year when it became apparent that the Lions were in trouble.

Gilmer, who has a three-year contract running through 1967, said, "I didn't see the signs and the singing was very poor."

But the Lions have lost five straight games and are 2-6 in the NFL's Western Division.

It's their longest losing streak in 11 years, since they dropped six straight in 1955. And it could easily go to six against the Chicago Bears this week.

Despite the recent addition of a passing offense with rookie Karl Sweetan at quarterback in place of the injured Milt Plum, the Lions have played poorly. Time after time their drives have been blunted by interceptions, fumbles and penalties.

Gilmer is doing his best to ignore criticism from players and fans. He's made wholesale changes in the Lions, letting many veterans go in exchange for youth. But it's hard to tell when, if ever, the moves will bear fruit.

Peterson Is AP Lineman

By HAL BOOK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took Nebraska's Kelly Petersen awhile to get accustomed to the switch from fullback but he's a full fledged center now. And he could be the best one in the Big Eight Conference.

Petersen was named The Associated Press' Lineman of the Week Tuesday for his part in the Cornhuskers' 35-0 route over Missouri last Saturday.

"He did a great job," said Coach Bob Devaney. It was simple but eloquent praise for the hard-working senior who reached stardom the hard way.

Petersen came to Nebraska as an all-state fullback but never quite got started as a running back. "We didn't feel he had the speed or quickness for fullback," said Carl Selmer, Nebraska's offensive line coach.

So they switched him to the line but he failed to impress there either. Devaney finally started him in desperation last year when first stringer Harry Tuthill became an academic casualty. Suddenly things clicked.

"He picked up a real understanding of the game," said Selmer, "and most important, he found a position of his own."

The position has been all his.

"He has been as outstanding a blocking center as we've had at Nebraska since I've been here," said Devaney. "He's as fine an offensive center as I've seen."

Petersen was the main cog in Nebraska's forward wall against Missouri. The Cornhusker line kept opening the holes as Nebraska's ground game ammassed 271 yards and just wore Missouri down.

There were other outstanding performances by linemen around the country.

Sophomore linebacker Chip Healy of Vanderbilt made 19 individual tackles and assisted on seven other in the Commodores' 13-12 loss to Tulane. He also intercepted a pass and returned it 35 yards for a touchdown.

Vanderbilt Coach Jack Green said Healy was outstanding. "He played the game you draw on paper — a perfect game."

Another linebacker, Billy Bob Stewart of Southern Methodist, made 14 tackles against Texas and was the man who jarred the ball loose from Bill Bradley in the final seconds setting up SMU's winning drive in the 13-12 victory.

UCLA linebacker Dan Manning played a key role in the Bruins' 38-13 victory over the Air Force. Manning made his fifth interception of the season, tying for the Pacific-8 Conference lead.

William and Mary tackle Joe Neilson nade 12 unassisted tackles in the Indians' 22-15 victory over VMI.

Bob Tatarek, a tackle, led the Miami defense which permitted Southern California just 81 yards rushing as the Hurricanes upset USC 10-7. Tatarek forced several fumbles with his jarring tackles and knocked down a key fourth quarter pass at the line of scrimmage.

Dallas May Get Superbowl

Dallas. (AP) — The State Fair of Texas, which operates the Cotton Bowl, may go after the Superbowl — the American Football League-National Football League playoff.

Since the game was turned down by the Rose Bowl, there has been speculation that Dallas, with a 75,000-seat stadium, might go for it.

State Fair president Bob Cullum said Tuesday he would investigate the possibility of Dallas landing the big game. However, he said he had not approached the pros on the matter as yet.

"We first wanted to have the game in a neutral city," said Tex Schramm, president of the Dallas Cowboys. "But it's pretty hard to find a neutral city with a large enough stadium. The only one I can think of is New Orleans. I certainly can see no reason why the Cotton Bowl shouldn't go for it."

Should Dallas get the Superbowl, officials can envision this possibility for the first of the year:

Dec. 31—Cotton Bowl game.

Jan. 1 — National Football League championship game (should Dallas win the Eastern Conference of the NFL)

Jan. 8—Superbowl game.

'Squaw Seeks Juarez Hound Win

Squeezable Squaw, winner of two AA races in her last six outs, is an outstanding favorite to win a grade A clash Wednesday night at Juarez Race Track. Squaw had lost three in a row in the top AA grade and therefore drops to grade A. However, in her losses she was bumped in one and shut off in another. Squaw has won nine races this season.

A Go-Go, a Dr. A. M. Bissing hound, who has elevated herself to the top, and is a big border favorite, will provide Squaw with plenty of opposition. Go Go has won eight races this season and has a second and two-thirds in her last six outs.

Newcomer, Call Me Pete, will be making his third start of the season in the same 550 yard contest listed as the co-feature. Pete is recently arrived from Pensacola, Fla., and is owned by Albert Stickler, a new kennel in Juarez.

Stickler made his debut as a trainer last week and had two wins, second and a third to open what he hopes to be a successful campaign in Juarez.

McGeorge, Itoluirun, B. A's Crimson Zip and Old Boozer complete the eight hound field.

First post time is 7:50 El Paso time.

Greyhound Entries

WEDNESDAY'S RACES

(In post position order with morning line odds)

FIRST—550 yds. Grade D.

Ropin Saddle	8-1	Broken Fiber	9-2
Smiling Debby	5-1	Karma Scott	6-1
Go Noise Go	5-2	Dark Dit	3-1
Depth Dan	10-1	Sissy Ellen	8-1

SECOND—550 yds. Grade C. First half Daily Double.

Gallant Merchant	3-1	Daisy Well	6-1
Good Time Sal	5-2	Twix	12-1
Painted Meadow	9-2	Track Runner	10-1
Libby Dee	5-1	Whirletta	6-1

THIRD—550 yds. Grade D. Second half Daily Double.

Happy Charmer	9-2	Bi-Stone Yodler	5-2
Marie Konitus	5-1	B.A.'s Bombshill	8-1
Jewell Tip	6-1	Nig's Minerva	3-1
Quick Jet W.	8-1	Hot Stock	10-1

FOURTH—550 yds. Grade C.

Longshot Debbie	4-1	Far When	12-1
Mulberry Crazy	8-1	Gordin Tip	6-1
El Camino Val	3-1	Dannawol	15-1
Jimmie Leonard	2-1	Texas Jolly	9-2

FIFTH—550 yds. Grade C.

Cam.CountDown	7-2	Estimated	20-1
Plenty Reason	5-2	Smooth Track	8-1
Barney Leonard	2-1	Top Ruby	9-2
Scopitone	6-1	C.V.'s Andress	20-1

SIXTH—550 yds. Grade B.

Sun N Sand	15-1	Crl Whopper	3-1
Raffish	10-1	Old Ranger	2-1
Paso Babe	8-5	Gallant Ingrid	20-1
B.A.'s Tail Zip	12-1	Eastern Hobo	6-1

SEVENTH—550 yds. Grade A.

B.A.'sAbe Mable	5-1	Sal's Ring	6-1
True Flash	9-2	Soo Nancy	10-1
Buzz Leonard	5-2	Things To Come	3-1
Swett Liz	12-1	Levitation	6-1

EIGHTH—550 yds. Grade A.

Squeez. Squaw	2-1	Call Me Pete	20-1
A Go Go	7-2	B.A.'s Cr. Zip	20-1
McGeorge	8-1	Campus Jack	5-2
Itoluirun	9-2	Old Boozer	6-1

NINTH—550 yds. Grade AA.

Dear Fern	5-1	Elated Ellie	8-1
Mutual Fund	4-1	B.A. Fonda	12-1
Or What Not	2-1	Surfer Girl	3-1
Do-A-Do	10-1	Lotta White	8-1

10TH — 550 yds. Grade B. First half "Big Q."

B.A.'s Dap. Dan	5-2	Shan Soo	9-2
Ruby's Push	10-1	B's Danny	6-1
Kimmie Royal	12-1	Market Rush	5-1
Too Short	6-1	Slick Shot	3-1

11TH — 680 yds. Grade T. Second half "Big Q."

Campus Mystery	6-1	Azabache	9-2
Why Kay	6-1	Gay Pay	10-1
Smokey Kitten	3-1	Light Molly	5-1
Nig's Velvet Step	5-2	Martin Molly	12-1

TRACKMAN'S SELECTIONS

1—Go Nosie Go, Smiling Debby, Ropin Saddle
2—Gallant Merchant, Good Time Sal, Painted Meadow
3—Bi-Stone Yodler, Marie Konitus, Happy Charmer
4—Gordon Tip, Longshot Debbie, Jimmie Leonard
5—Plenty Reason, Campus Count Down, Top Ruby
6—PASO BABE, Old Ranger, Sun N Sand
7—Things To Come, B.A.'s Able Mable, True Flash
8—A Go Go, Campus Jack, Squeezable Squaw
9—Or What Not, Surfer Girl, Mutual Funds
10—B.A.'s Dapper Dan, B's Danny, Ruby's Push
11—Azabache, Smokey Kitten, Why Kay

Longshot—Gallant Ingrid, 6th.
Best Bet in Caps.

I WANT TO SELL MY NEW

DODGE COMPACT TRUCK, WITH MORE POWER, MORE PAYLOAD, MORE DURABILITY, AND A LOW, LOW PRICE!!!

Dodge Builds Tough Trucks

DODGE DIVISION CHRYSLER MOTORS CORPORATION

THE DODGE BOYS

McKEON DODGE, INC.
5810 East Paisano El Paso, Texas