

for a new event, the Vodka Toss, in the next Olympics? . . . Remember little Andy Cohen, who replaced Rogers Hornsby as the Giants' second baseman back in the 20s? . . . Andy, new Indianapolis manager and a longtime friend, writes from Panama where he's skippering the Chestertfield Club: "This is the land of lotteries, women, saloons, national holidays and they like baseball, too." . . . Come to think of it, Lake Worth's gift to the Cleveland Indians, Herb Score, is down to only two American League clubs—to Boston 4-6 and to the White Sox 3-4 . . . Yankee Enos Slaughter, who turns 41 on April 27, has walked five miles daily since the World Series ended and recently had a baby by his fifth wife . . . And what's this about ex-Sun Sox catcher Ed Little coming out of retirement?

Anyone else for some Florida weather?
