

SUNDAY TELEGRAM 2C
Elmira, N.Y. April 23, 1972

Big Shindig

By AL MALLETTE

You think Kip Horsburgh and Carl Fazio aren't on the baseball ball!

Listen to this.

This is the 50th anniversary year of the Eastern League (it was New York-Penn when organized at Elmira's old Rathbun Hotel in 1923) and Kip and Carl are going to celebrate the anniversary—hopefully with the help of EL prexy Roy Jackson and other Eastern League officials.

The date has been fixed for Aug. 14 and the energetic, enthusiastic Elmira owners are hoping for a real shindig.

They're going to spice the Elmira part of the affair with 1971-72 Hall of Fame inductees—plus the selection of Elmira's 50th anniversary all-star team, a team that will be selected by you the fans on ballots at the ball park.

The ballots will be ready by the next homestand and will be inserted in the scorebooks.

TO MAKE IT that much easier for you fans, ballots will list current members of Elmira's Baseball Hall of Fame, those who have come within a few votes of entry and members of the 25th anniversary team selected in 1948.

To give fans a few extra days to ponder their selection here are a list of the names that will appear on the ballot:

First Base — Gerry Hannahoe (1935-36), Neil Caldwell (1933-34), Ted Donovan (1926-27-28) and Ed Robinson (1941)

Second Base — George Fallon (1937-38-39-51-52), Andy Cohen (1941-42), Walter (Rabbit) Maranville (1936) Stan Sperry (1934) and Jimmy Bucher (1932-33)

Third Base — Packy Rogers (1935-36-37-46-48-58), Frank Madura (1941) Blaine (Doc) Kunes (1933-34), Steve Barath (1938), Bobby Wilson (1950-51), Clyde Parris (1954).

Shortstop — Ray White (1937-38), Don Zimmer (1951), Leo Hanley (1923-24-25-26-27), Zoilo Versalles (1958), Johnny Keane (1933-34), Wally Novak (1935) Mark Belanger (1966).

Outfield — Pete Reiser (1939-40), George Staller (1939), Jack Grossman (1935-36-37-38), Art Graham (1935), Johnny Mize (1932), Johnny Rizzo (1933-34), Don Smith (1943), Paul Blair (1963), Fritz Werber (1928-29-30) Rusty Saunders (1931), Terry Moore (1934), Al Moore (1924-25), Jim Conley (1927) Jerry Morales (1969) Curt Motton (1964).

Catcher — Elmer Klumpp (1936-38), Otto (Dutch) Denning (1937), Johnny Pasek (1935), Hack Ennis (1927-28), Les Moss (1943) Fred Kendall (1969).

LH Pitchers — Johnny Hvidsos (1937-38-39), Clarence (Lefty) Heise (1932), Ted Pritchard (1926-27-28-29), Jimmy (Little Caesar) Lyons (1933-34), Ray Roche (1941) Dave McNally (1962), Sam Zoldák (1943), Pat Gillick (1962), Darold Knowles (1963), Bill Gilvary (1937).

RH Pitcher — Lew Krausse (1935-36-37-38), Sal Maglie (1941), Mort Cooper (1934), Ed Head (1940) Alex Mustaikis (1943), Dave Leonhard (1965), Al (Duke) Fisher (1932-33-34) Jack Kimball (1935-36-37), Paul Campbell (1964-65-67), Eddie Williams (1926-27), Roger Hanlon (1935-36) Bob Klinger (1933), Ed Watt (1964-65), Xavier Rescigno (1939), Bob Barr (1935-36-37).

THAT'S THE selection chart—and, believe me, it's quite an array of talent of hallowed names in the 50-year history of Elmira professional baseball in the Eastern League.

It should make for some deep reminiscing, some heated debates and certainly a lot of fun for many long time Elmira baseball fans.

The balloting should kindle a lot of interest throughout the Twin Tiers among young and old alike as to who were the better ball players when they wore Elmira uniforms—not for what they later accomplished in the majors.

Horsburgh and Fazio definitely hope it doesn't shuttle into a popularity contest—but that voters think before balloting.

For you fans' information the 25-year team listed Robinson at first, Fallon at second; White at short, Madura at third, Denning catcher, Reiser, Staller and Terry Moore in the outfield and Krausse (RH) and Zoldak (LH) as the pitchers.

The balloting that time was so close that Rogers, Grossman, Heise, Rizzo, Hannahoe, Graham, Al Moore, Sperry and Maglie missed by only a handful of votes.

Now it's 25 years later and time for the 50th anniversary team.

Have fun.