

246 Elmira, Heights, Horseheads Athletes Are in Sports Halls

Elmira's Sports Halls of Fame, originated in 1958 with the Softball Hall, have undergone some drastic revisions in the last year.

The originators of the Halls, Businessman M. Louis Paltrowitz, Star-Gazette Sports Editor Al Mallette, City Recreation Director Allie Quatrano and former School Board member Bernard (Bus) Hartnett, carried the task of sending out and counting ballots for each category every year.

At the start, 48 Elmira, Elmira Heights and Horseheads sports boosters met to draw up lists of candidates for each sport and from these master lists, voted on candidates for entry into each hall.

In the beginning, each Hall accepted upwards of 10 members in a single year, then decreased the number of inductees yearly. Today, in the four original Hall sports — softball, baseball, football and basketball — only the top one or two in voting are inducted.

In the last year, though, or since Elmira College Chancellor J. Ralph Murray offered the main entrance of Murray Center (Golden Domes) as a permanent home for sports Halls, interest in the Halls has increased tremendously.

Because of many requests the present Hall executive committee of Paltrowitz, Quatrano and Mallette decided to look into an expansion program to include boxing, track, tennis, golf and wrestling.

Interest was there but more help was needed.

Thus was born a new Hall committee with co-chairmen designated for each sport to handle candidates, form their own voting committees, do research and set up balloting and criteria for entry in the various Halls.

The new category chairmen are: Football—Marty Harrigan and Bill Tryon; Softball—Tick Losinger; Basketball—Jim Snowden and Harold Schwalb; Baseball—Art Wellington and Judge Dan Donahoe; Golf—Jack Flynn and Ed Widman; Boxing—Jim Nelson; Track, Wrestling and Tennis—Bill Wipfler, Dr. Marsden Stamp and Harrigan.

The Hall will have dedication ceremonies Wednesday night at 7:15 at Murray Center. Harrigan will emcee the program, Flynn, Widman and Nelson will present the golf and boxing awards.

The six three-foot by two-foot plaques placed on the Murray Center lobby wall (later it is hoped to add a couple of display cases) will carry the following names of 246 Elmira, Elmira Heights and Horseheads athletes already voted into the various Halls:
