ON SECOND THOUGHT

By DAVE CAMPBELL
Tribune-Herald Sports Editor

In the Texas Christian dressing room last Cotton Bowl day, line coach Allie White circulated among his beaten warriors offering words of praise and sympathy, pausing now and then to answer the ever-present questions of the sports writers.

"What's next on the schedule, Allie?" one of them asked.

"We've got to get out and do some proselyting," White replied. "We've got to bring in a good crop of boys next fall."

Monday the Frogs, and the other six members of the Southwest Conference, bring in the first answers. It's letter-of-intent time, the league's annual impersonation of Oklahoma's great land rush. Only in this case, it's the great talent rush, a swiftly-moving, far-flung grab for the best in football and basketball brawn and brain as offered up by the schoolboy and junior college ranks.

ABE MARTIN

According to the men who claim to know, the Frogs are going to achieve just what the likable Allie proclaimed they should do. They work with one advantage. They're champions, and you'd be surprised how many doors that championship will open.

How does Abe Martin expect to do on this, the eve of the big push?

"Well, I have no complaints yet," folksy Abe said Saturday. "I don't think I'll have many after Monday. You get some and you lose some. That's the way it's always been for us, and I imagine that's the way it'll be again."

How much has winning the 1955 title helped TCU talent sleuths?

"I wouldn't know until later this spring," Martin replied. "You can't count on anything until you actually sign them up. At least, it's helped our reception. I think when you win the championship, the boys know you a little better, receive you a little better. I believe maybe you get a little more consideration in people's minds.

"Our prospects look fairly good right now.

"I don't think we're going to make any sweep though. We're just working like everything trying to get us some little old rosy cheek boys in here."

Steer Recruiters Making Haul

There are those who agree that the Frogs are not likely to make a complete sweep. Not while the Longhorns are around.

For some strange reason, the beef procurers of Austin were strangely quiet last year. Little was heard from Forty Acres, and the results showed up on the football field in the fall freshman games.

This year it's different. The word is out that Texas is going to bring in a banner crop, and the evidence available thus far supports the report. Three big Lamar of Houston linemen have announced for Texas, as have two star Baytown gridders, and an all-state end from Garland.

There is a lot of talent, however, and each school will bag some prizes.

This year's rush starts a little earlier than the 1955 one because the conference dads moved the kickoff date up from April 15 to April 2.

The procedure will be the same, however.

The various coaches will be handed the letter-of-intent forms at 8 a. m. Monday by the athletic faculty representatives, and then this Easter egg hunt for grown-ups will be under way. The coaches will scatter to all parts, by plane and by car.

Schools are permitted to sign 22 high schoolers, three first-year junior college boys, and three more Junior College graduates. Basketball coaches can sign four boys. Track and baseball coaches must wait until June 15 to sign their prospects.

SEC Plan Worthy of Study

Signing the letter simply means the boy pledges his attendance at the conference school with which he signs. If he signs and then changes his mind and goes to another school in the league, he loses his freshman and sophomore years of eligibility. He can go outside the conference without penalty.

The boys sign four copies of the letter. One goes to the conference office, one is kept by the boy, and two are returned to the school. The school must later return one of its two copies to the boy, notifying him that he has been accepted.

One change has been introduced this year. The conference office will notify each boy, within three weeks of the date he signed, that the letter he signed has been turned in. If the letter is not turned in, and the boy not notified, he is free to sign with another school without penalty.

A number of the state's most widely sought schoolboys are still ineligible to sign. According to interscholastic league rules, a boy cannot sign a letter of intent until he has exhausted his high school athletic eligibility. The moment he signs, he loses that eligibility.

Thus, all athletes still participating in track and baseball must wait. They'll be hounded and harassed daily by an ever-growing number of scouts, but they must wait because the all-powerful TIL says so. It is a poor situation, and one calculated to give little comfort to a versatile athlete in his spring classroom work.

Scouts, coaches, boys and parents would prefer the Southeast Conference system, which permits all the recruiting and signing to be completed quickly, right after the football season in December. The boys in that area, of course, sign without affecting their remaining high school eligibility.

It is a plan of much merit, and would draw support from the Southwest Conference. Unfortunately, the conference must abide by interscholastic league rules, and until the TIL decides to act, the great talent rush will continue to wait until spring.

Texas Frosh May Steal Relay's Show

AUSTIN, March 31—UP—A field boasting some of the nation's top Olympic prospects may be hard put to outshine a brilliant University of Texas freshman combination in the 29th annual Texas Relays opening Friday.

The two-day track and field show will attract almost 1,000 athletes representing 11 states, with championship events being run off Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

Two years ago Kansas produced champions in five events and a world-record relay team, and last year Oklahoma A&M wrote two new marks into the book while missing the Jayhawks' world standard by one-tenth of a second.

These two teams will return with exceptional talent, along with a field of Olympic hopefuls including sprinter Bobby Morrow of Abilene, Tex., Christian College; Kansas' Bill Nieder, national collegiate champion in the shot put, and Jim Bailey of Australia, national collegiate champion miler who will run for Oregon in the 1,500-meter race.

But Freshman Coach Froggy Lovvorn will enter a University of Texas freshman array which will be shooting at national freshman marks for the 440-yard, mile and sprint medley relays.

The squad is headed by Eddie Southern, holder of the national high school 440 record; Joe Villarreal, billed as one of the Southwest's top middle-distance prospects, and Hollis Gainey, an outstanding sprinter.

The Texas freshmen, with Gainey anchoring, already have posted 41.1 seconds this season in the 440-yard relay, under the national frosh mark of 41.5.

The quarter-mile relay combine includes Wallace Wilson, Southern Bobby Stillwell and Gainey, who appear a cinch to shatter the Texas Relays standard of 41.8 seconds.

Huskers Halt Baylor, 5 to 3

Charles Zeigenbein, a willowy sophomore with a whipping left arm, blanked Baylor the last six innings Saturday to set up a 5-3 triumph for Nebraska and give the road-weary visitors a split in the two-game series here that ended their swing through the Southwest.

After giving up single runs in each of the first three innings, the tall southpaw held the Bruins at bay the remainder of the contest and his deliveries seemed to pick up in swiftness in the late innings.

The Bruins had him in serious trouble several times but he worked casually out of each dilemma and ended the game with a typical recovery—striking out Gene Liston with one on and two away in the ninth.

Zeigenbein's chief aide was shortstop Norman Coufal, who had a four-for-four day at the plate and was the key figure in two double plays which settled, without damage, trouble-loaded situations.

Zeigenbein went all the way, striking out nine, allowing eight hits and walking nine. When he was wild he was very wild, unloading two wild pitches during the game. But with the chips on, he got his big pitches across.

Matt Miller, who took over for starter John Billiam in the fourth, was charged with the loss but pitched five innings of sturdy relief ball, allowing one run and four hits during his span. He struck out one and walked one. Henry Talamantez finished up in the ninth, when the 'Huskers scored their unearned insurance run.

It was Baylor's last non-Conference game of the season. They host Texas here Tuesday in their most crucial game to date.

Baylor scored first when Zeigenbein had initial control trouble. Tom Anderson and Don Berry worked him for walks, and Jacky Davis drove in Anderson with a sharp single. The door was ajar with men on first and second and one out but Coufal quickly closed it.

Gary Freeman, next up, popped a pitch just over the mound which Zeigenbein deflected enough for Coufal to rush in and grab, step on second and fire to first for an inning-ending double play.

Nebraska came back with two runs in the second when Coufal opened with a triple and scored on Don Erway's fly to center. Gilliam issued two straight walks, got a second out on a strikeout, then let Al Karle single to center to drive in the second run.

The Bruins tied it up in their half on Lee Harrington's walk, Gilliam's single and an error by the third baseman, but Nebraska went ahead with another run in the third. A walk, Coufal's bloop single to right and a fielder's choice did the damage.

Baylor added its final run in the third when Davis walked, went to third on Freeman's single and came in on a follow-up single by Allen Lucas. Baylor again had men on second and third with one out and threatened to break up the game, but Liston struck out and Harrington grounded out to short.

Nebraska took the lead for good in the fourth. Gary Reimers' bunt single down the third base line started it off. Zeigenbein forced Reimers, went to second on a walk and took third on a fielder's choice. A clean single by Brown brought him in.

After that the game rocked along with no score until the 'Huskers pushed one across in the ninth. A walk, fielder's choice and Traylor's error let in the final damage.

10,000 PIRATE TICKETS SOLD

Waco Lions Club members Saturday passed the first milestone in their effort to sell 50,000 advance tickets to Waco Pirate games this season.

Campaign executive Jim Flynn reported the initial, and still incomplete, tabulation revealed 10,000 tickets have been sold.

"We still have a long way to go but we've barely tapped the potential," Flynn said. "I'm really encouraged." Another report is scheduled Wednesday, at the weekly luncheon of the club. Flynn also offered to make it easy for all Wacoans to buy their tickets. "They can either call me at 4-4069 today or S. C. O'Neal at 3-7143, and we'll deliver the tickets to their front door," he said.

Katy Park Tests Near For Pittsburgh, Waco

Bragan's Club Here Friday; Local Bucs Play Next Sunday

By DAVE CAMPBELL
Tribune-Herald Sports Editor

Baseball starts busting out all over this week in Waco.

With most of the non-district combat over at last, the high schools will launch their meaningful district contests, and at Baylor diamond the Bruins will play three crucial games against Texas and Rice. The Longhorns come to town Tuesday in a game which promises to match Texas' Harry Taylor against Baylor's Jerry Mallett, and then the Owls invade Waco for a Friday-Saturday engagement. The Taylor-Mallett duel, long in the making and eagerly awaited, could be one of the season highlights.

Despite the attractiveness of such a schedule, the stage will belong to the professionals.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, with a new manager, a new hope and a new esprit de corps, will lift the curtain on major league baseball for Wacoans Friday afternoon when they meet the New Orleans Pelicans at Katy Park.

Then, 48 hours later, the 1956 Waco Pirates will make their debut before the home folks in a Sunday afternoon game against AA Mexico City.

The two games provide a touch of the past and present. In the Friday contest, Pittsburgh manager Bobby Bragan will field a team featuring a number of former Katy Park favorites, including Bob Friend, the National League's most effective pitcher last year. The Sunday clash, of course, puts on display most of the faces which will open the season here the following Thursday against Wichita Falls.

While all that diamond activity is going on, Waco Lions Club members will be beating the drums for Pirate ticket sales. Their goal is the sale of 50,000 tickets to 1956 games. (See separate story, this page).

At least four former stars for the local Pirates will be in the Pittsburgh lineup when Bragan's team takes the field against Andy Cohen's Pelicans.

Bob Friend to Start

Bragan announced his lineup for the Waco game Saturday. Friend, the big righthander who pitched a no-hit, no-run game as his final effort for Waco in 1950, will start against the Pels and go the route if he can.

Preston Ward will be on first and the fancy-fielding Curtis Roberts, a .321 hitter for Hollywood last year, will take second. Eddie O'Brien, of the famous O'Brien twins, will be at short. Dick Cole will be on third.

In the outfield will be ex-Waco performers Bob Skinner and Lee Walls, plus Roberto Clemente, the sensational youngster drafted out of the Brooklyn organization a year ago.

Behind the bat will be another ex-Pirate, Danny Kravitz, who has moved up from New Orleans and now is making a striking bid for first-string duties with the parent club. Kravitz is Pittsburgh's second leading hitter this spring. He has a .379 average. Infielder Roberts is the top hitter with a .384 mark, while Clemente has a .345 average.

Cohen, too, will play a number of ex-Wacoans. Don Rowe, Don Kildoo, and Jackie Brown are three of New Orleans' top moundsmen, while John Powers is the power threat in the outfield.

Tickets to that game will go on sale at Katy Park Tuesday. Admission price will be $1.10.

Waco Team Shaping

From the Waco training base at Country Campus Saturday, Buc general manager Buster Chatham reported the stage is set for the formation of his 1956 edition.

"Pittsburgh and New Orleans will be cutting down next week," he said. "Branch Rickey Jr. (the farm director) is in New Orleans this week end watching the Pirates, and he will be back here next week, along with Joe Brown. When they get here, I imagine the clubs will be set up." Brown, of course, is the former Waco general manager who this year took over the top reins in Pittsburgh.

Chatham already is getting a good line on his club. He lists four strong candidates for outfield duty—Sam Miley, Oscar Rodriguez, Ron Northam and Joe Duhem. All are having fine springs, he said. Miley, Rodriguez and Duham all hit above .300 here last year, while Northam is a former performer at Temple who was drafted by Waco and then went into service. He is highly regarded.

BOB SKINNER

Jack Falls, a sensation here in 1954, is the top catching candidate. Falls hit .348 here two years ago as an outfielder. Now Pittsburgh wants to convert him into a catcher.

Thomas Munoz, a .276 hitter who had 21 homers last year at Stockton in the California league, joins ex-Buc Bill Jackson in the battle at first base. Jackson hit .298 at Phoenix and had 17 home runs after leaving Waco. Manager Monty Basgall, a slick-fielding, timely-hitting veteran, will hold forth at second. At short, ex-Pirates Rex Babcock and Gordon Figard are the top candidates, with Chatham listing Babcock as first choice. Ralph Wilcox, here three seasons ago before entering service, probably will win out at third. He had a sensational year at Phoenix in 1955, hitting .330 with 37 homers.

The pitching still is uncertain. Alvin Jackson, who had a glittering 2.79 ERA here last year in making the all-star team, heads the possibilities. Chico Salgado, most effective pitcher in the Pittsburgh system last year with a 16-5 mark and a 2.21 ERA at St. Jean, has been working with the Waco team this spring.

"Pitching will be no problem," said Buster. "We've had good pitching for the last three years and we'll have it again. We'll get our pitchers when the top clubs cut down."

Following the Sunday afternoon contest, the Waco club will return to Country Campus for another two days of intra-squad play, then will be back in Waco Wednesday (April 11) for a workout under the Katy Park lights. The season opens the next day.

Patterson Is Relays Star

By GEORGE RABORN
Tribune-Herald Sports Staff

FORT WORTH, March 31—Fleet Tommy Patterson of Waco scored a record-breaking double victory in the hurdles and records were smashed throughout the afternoon as Abilene edged Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) by two-thirds of a point to win the sixth annual Cowtown Relays here Saturday.

Abilene scored 34 points, Arlington Heights 33 1/3, and North Side (Fort Worth) 25. Highland Park was fourth with 19 points, Sunset (Dallas) made 14, Paschal (Fort Worth) 11 1/3, and Waco was seventh with 11. Roger Crawford accounted for the 11th Tiger point by placing fourth in the 440-yard dash with the fastest time of his career, 50.7.

PATTERSON

Aided by a high wind, Patterson skimmed over the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.6, beating Gerald Tankersley of Highland Park by two yards, and then raced across the 180-yard low barriers in 19.7 to score a four-yard victory over Tankersley. Both of Patterson's triumphs broke Cowtown records and were the second best times posted in the state this year.

Another double winner was long-legged Harry Moreland of Arlington Heights, who won the 100-yard dash in 9.7 and then whipped through the 220 in 21.3, winning by an eight-inch margin in the state's best furlong time to date.

Abilene chalked up four first places as Billy Mitchell spun the discus 162 feet, Stuart Peake tossed the shot 49 feet, 10½ inches, Joe Purifoy ran the 880 in 2:04.2, and Jim Leonard soared 12 feet, 4 inches in the pole vault. When the last running event, the mile relay ended, Abilene trailed Arlington Heights by 4 1/3 points and the pole vault wasn't completed until more than an hour later with Leonard's five points giving the Eagles the team title.

Other individual winners were David Lowman of Sunset, who ran the mile in 4:41.7, and Don Norrell of Poly Fort Worth), who high jumped 5 feet, 11¾ inches.

Graham scored 49 2/3 points to win the Class A team title with ease from second-place Ennis, which had 27 points. Graham's versatile Mike Dowdle was high-point man for both meets by winning the shot with 53 feet, 2 ¾ inches and the discus with 156 feet, 6 inches, and placing second in the 100-yard dash.

University High of Waco got its only point when Aubrey Bradford placed fourth in the 440-yard dash.

Dons' Russell, Jones Spark West Victory

NEW YORK, March 31—UP—All-America Bill Russell and K. C. Jones of San Francisco's NCAA basketball champions led a 14-point spree in the opening minutes of the second half Saturday night to spark the West to a 103-72 victory over the East in the annual college All-Star game.

A crowd of 17,852 watched Paul Judson of Illinois, Julius McCoy of Michigan State and Carl Cain of Iowa lead the West to an easy victory at Madison Square Garden.

The West led nearly all the way, but only had a 42-36 lead at halftime. However, in the first 5 1-2 minutes of the second half, Russell and Jones helped reel off 14 straight points for a 57-40 lead.

Russell scored six points and Jones five during the spurt.

The West went on to outscore the East, 27-5, during the first 7½ minutes of the last half.

Russell, who repeatedly blocked shots by his rivals, snared 24 rebounds and sank nine of 13 field goal tries. Jones, who stole the ball repeatedly, had six assists.

Russell was selected the game's outstanding player.

GRAPEFRUIT LEAGUE

Willie Has Great Day

From Wire Reports

Willie Mays had the greatest day of his pro career Saturday as he smashed three home runs and triple to knock in nine runs as the New York Giants mauled Baltimore, 27-10, at Phoenix.

Mays hit two of his homers in the same inning, the third, when the Giants scored ten runs. His second was a grand-slammer. All of his blows were off different pitchers. He hit one off southpaw Bill Wight and the others off righthanders Mel Held and Bob Harrison. He now has 11 homers for the spring and is hitting .468.

At Tucson, Monte Irvin broke a 2-2 deadlock in the sixth with a three-run homer as the Chicago Cubs trimmed Cleveland, 6-3. Bob Lemon was touched for four runs in the frame. Gene Woodling led the Indians with three straight hits, hiking his average to an even .500.

Home runs by Stan Lopata and Del Ennis carried the Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-4 win over the Chicago White Sox at Clearwater, Fla.

Despite the assault, Jack Harshman became the first Chisox pitcher to go the distance this spring and was touched for eleven hits.

Yanks Fall Again

At St. Petersburg, Fla., the St. Louis Cardinals handed the sagging New York Yankees their fifth straight loss, 5-2, as Harvey Haddix held the Bombers to seven hits in seven innings. Larry Jackson finished up. Ten Yankees struck out. Tommy Byrne was slugged for ten hits and five runs in the seven frames he worked. Rip Repulski clouted an inside-the-park homer with one on in the seventh.

The Detroit Tigers and Boston went ten innings at Lakeland, Fla., before Wayne Belardi, a Brooklyn castoff, lashed a triple and scored on Frank House's fly to give Detroit a 10-9 win. Boston had forced the game into extra innings when Mickey Vernon homered with one on in the ninth. Earlier, Jim Piersall blasted a grand-slam home run and Jackie Jensen connected with one man on. Al Kaline, back in the lineup for the first time in two weeks, had two singles.

Brooklyn was shut out for the third time this spring at Tampa as Brooks Lawrence, Johnny Klippstein and Bob Podbielan of Cincinnati held the Dodgers to three hits as the Reds took a 4-0 win.

The only Dodger hits were Duke Snider's single, Charley Neal's triple and Dick Williams' double.

At Orlando, Fla., Ted Abernathy held a group of teammates to four hits and won a 3-2 game in an intrasquad scrimmage. The Senators trimmed their squad to 33 by sending shortstop Lyle Luttrell to Louisville.

Solo home runs by Eddie Mathews, Bill Bruton and Felix Mantilla gave the Milwaukee Braves a 9-1 victory over Atlanta in a night game.

Warriors Nip Pistons

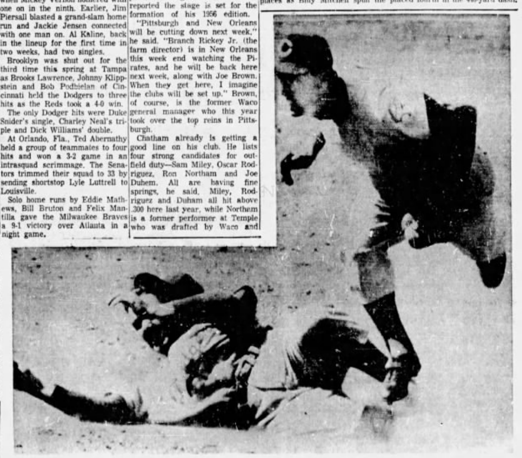
PHILADELPHIA, March 31 (UP)—Ernie Beck, rookie star from the Ivy League, came off the bench to spark a floundering Philadelphia Warriors team to a 98-94 victory over Fort Wayne today in the first game of the National Basketball Assn. championship final best-of-7 series.



DOUBLE PLAY FAILS—Dodger first baseman Dick Williams slides back into second safely to avoid a double play situation in sixth inning of Dodger-Cincinnati game Saturday. He had to hustle back when pitcher Stan Williams lined out to first base. The throw to shortstop Roy McMillan, who stumbled momentarily, was too late. (UP Telephoto).

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Wiggins Sets NCAA Mark; O'Brien Grabs Meet Records

From Wire Reports

Ohio State's Al Wiggins set an American record in the 200-yard individual medley in 2:07.5 as the NCAA swimming championships ended at New Haven, Conn.
