

Indianapolis Fires Manager Andy Cohen

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 27
Andy Cohen was fired today as manager of the Indianapolis Indians of the American Association after one season on the job. No successor has been selected.

Cohen came to Indianapolis this year after two seasons managing the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern Association. Indianapolis finished sixth this past season with 74 victories and 80 defeats—the first time in his 12-year managing career Cohen has finished under .500. The Indians won the Association pennant and Little World Series last year.

Club's Home Attendance Below Million Mark

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 27 (AP)—Home attendance at games of the Kansas City Athletics fell well below the million mark for the 1957 season.

The club reported today 1957 home attendance was 901,067. This was 114,097 less than the 1956 turnout and far behind the 1,393,054 fans who turned out for the club's first season here. The club ended its home season Thursday night.
