both New Mexico runners scored to make the final outcome 6-4 in favor of the Lobos.

"We gave it to them," said Cohen, angered over the outcome. "It was a simple pop-up but everybody was so anxious to catch the ball that they didn't use good baseball sense."

"I can't believe they dropped the ball," said a disgruntled Dehn. "They're two of our better players. Hell, if I knew what was going to happen, I would have called them both off and given it a try."

The Miners scored their first three runs in the nightcap in the first inning when Dwinell singled, went to third on Villarreal's double and Terry Dillingham hit a fly to right allowing Dwinell to score. Villarreal followed Dwinell home after Steve Dau's grounder to third was booted. Dau was home with the third run an error and single later by Dave Patt.

Two walks by Jannusch in the second and a single by John Konitzer cut the score to 3-2 before the Miners added another run in the third when Villarreal singled, was sacrificed to second, moved up on an infield out and raced home when catcher Konitzer failed to handle a Rob Hoover pitch.

The score remained intact until the ninth when the Lobos scored four runs on no hits. New Mexico squeezed only three singles out of Jannusch the entire game but nine walks by the right-hander kept the junior in trouble most of the afternoon.

UTEP won its only WAC game in the three-game series in the opener when Walker was backed by 14 hits which included five doubles.

"It was good to see all those runs behind me," said Walker after he posted his second win of the year against one setback. "But I wouldn't say this was the best game I've ever pitched."

Walker also had difficulty with his control, walking six Lobo batters. Two Miner doubleplays, though, and solid defense backed Walker's three-hitter, all singles.

Bravo paced the Miners in the opener with three hits and two runs scored while Dwinell, Dillingham, Dau and Terry Goodro added two hits apiece. Goodro almost hit his first home run of the year in the fourth but his high drive deep to left-center field bounced off the top of the fence.

The split handed UTEP a 1-2 WAC record and a 7-10 overall mark. New Mexico is now 2-1 in conference play and 24-11 for the season.

Next weekend UTEP travels to Arizona for a three-game series after taking on the El Paso Diablos at 7 p.m. Monday in an exhibition game at Dudley Field. New Mexico will be at home against Arizona State.
