

Miners Test Mighty ASU

Special To The El Paso Times

TEMPE, Ariz. — The University of Texas at El Paso will begin a three-game series at 7 p.m. Friday against Arizona State's Sun Devils, the nation's top-ranked baseball team.

A day-night doubleheader Saturday will conclude the first round of the Western Athletic Conference action.

The mighty Sun Devils were surprised in Albuquerque last week by New Mexico by a 6-4 count sandwiched between two victories. The WAC loss dropped ASU's conference record to 5-1. Overall, Arizona State is 44-7 while the Miners are 7-13 and 1-5 in the WAC.

"The thing about my team is that the better the teams we play, the better we seem to play," said UTEP Coach Andy Cohen. "They're the number one team in the nation and it'll be interesting to see how we do against Arizona State."

UTEP is currently riding a six-game losing streak, dating back to the second game of a doubleheader in El Paso against New Mexico's Lobos April 10.

Right-hander Dave Jannusch will hurl Friday's game against ASU while Jeff Hogan and Jerry Walker will work the two Saturday games.
