Hitting The Baseball Trail

Moving Day For Many ExChicks — Hornsby
Couldn't Make 3,000-Hit Mark—Klein Delivers

Familiar baseball figures moving around: DUTCH DOTTERER, the catcher, from Cincinnati to Seattle; DIXIE HOWELL, the pitcher, from the White Sox to Indianapolis; same for DON RUDOLPH, also a pitcher. . . . Old Dixie had some real good years for the Sox after going up from Memphis, but he's 38 now and doubtless losing something off his sinking fast ball— which was a dilly in its day. . . . Rudolph, a lefthander, has been up and down like a lift . . . and this may be his last time around. . . . A sincere guy and a hard workman, he doesn't have the natural endowments of a lot of his pitching rivals. . . . LOU KLEIN, last year's manager of the Chicks, hit safely in his first two times at bat as a pinch hitter for his Fort Worth club . . . once to with a 15-inning game from Dallas 3-2.

LEO DOBARD, who played shortstop for the Chicks back in the 1920s and was a long-time Southern Leaguer, died in New Orleans the other day. . . . Former Southern League managers doing well: DANNY MURTAUGH (Pittsburgh) whose Pirates are beginning to make the other National League clubs take them seriously. . . . ANDY COHEN (Denver) whose team is leading the American Association and for a time threatened to make a runaway of the race. . . . Both managed New Orleans and their teams finished well down for the most part. . . . Louisville of the Association, is in trouble financially and artificial respiration is being applied. . . . The club is far down in eighth place. . . . The Giants drew 26,107 for an exhibition game at Portland and the major leagues are going to be looking that way pretty soon.

ROGERS HORNSBY, acknowledged to be one of the greatest batsmen of all time, never got to his 3,000th base hit, as STAN MUSIAL did recently. . . . Hornsby quit when he was 70 short of the mark. . . . RIP COLLINS, one-time St. Louis first baseman, cracked, "I couldn't have reached 3,000 if they'd included batting practice." . . . The new style box score, which includes runs-batted-in in the table and leaves out individual putouts and assists, is under somewhat heavy fire . . . but the newspapers voted for the new box in a poll by the press associations and presumably it will be continued. . . . CASEY STENGEL claims American League pitchers are throwing at his MICKEY MANTLE's feet and ankles and he isn't happy over his star having to jump around so much at the plate. . . . The Yank manager still sticks to the White Sox as a pennant threat.

Southern Leaguers figure the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League should have it made with pitchers like AL LARY, BILL HENRY and JOHN BUZHARDT of last year's Chicks and GARY BELL, a sensation with Mobile. . . . Henry is being used largely as a reliever. . . . Minneapolis, a supplier of the Chicks as the No. 1 farm of the Boston Red Sox, is holding on to two or three players who were ticketed for Memphis. . . . notably LU CLINTON, an outfielder and BILL MONBOUQUETTE, a righthanded pitcher. . . . The Chicks at one time were supposed to get HARRY DORISH, veteran major-league righthander, but he has been pitching great relief ball for the Millers. . . . JOE TANNER, the infielder who balked at his assignment to Memphis by Minneapolis, has been moved instead to Seattle of the Coast League.

With Los Angeles in last place and prospects not improving, BUZ BAVASI, the voice of the club, apparently is made at everyone. . . . He has let go two blasts at outfielder DUKE SNIDER and one, at least, at DON NEWCOMBE, who has been something less than a winning pitcher. . . . Loss of ROY CAMPANELLA, the catcher, seems to be the biggest single factor in the Dodger decline. . . . Memphian CHARLES KING, just back from a Houston meeting of Equitable Life Assurance Co. managers, reveals that one of the baseball pension benefits is a $10,000 accident policy protecting players injured off the field. . . . which must be a great help to Campanella, paralyzed from an automobile accident. . . . Eighty former major league players or active affiliates of clubs are drawing pensions ranging from $100 to $550 a month. . . .
