

Travs Tally 18-5 Win Over Pels

By UNITED PRESS

Barring a Little Rock agreement to defuse some dynamite-laden bats, it'll be a small miracle if New Orleans manager Andy Cohen even shows up with a pitching staff tonight.

The still-reeling Pel curveballers absorbed one of the most vicious one inning attacks ever seen in the Southern Association last night when Little Rock scored 15 runs in a bombastic seventh frame to win 18-5.

The Travelers sent 9 men to the plate during the gigantic flurry, 15 between the first and second outs, and even old "Hooks" Iott, the much-traveled hurler, punched in with a single and double. The bombardment, which surprisingly produced no home runs, fell one run short of the all-time Southern Association one inning record.

In other action meantime, Birmingham dropped a narrow 8-7 decision to Nashville to dwindle its southern lead to 5 1-2 games. Memphis and Mobile were rained out and Atlanta and Chattanooga were cancelled due to cold and threatening weather.

New Orleans took a 3-0 lead in the first inning and scored twice more in the fifth to hold a 5-2 advantage going into the ill-fated seventh. As the big Little Rock rally picked up momentum, manager Cohen frantically pulled Chuck Churn and threw in Les Phillips, Joe Perrotta, and Harry Fisher in quick succession. None was effective, but Fisher did achieve the distinction of a third out.

The five Pel pitchers allowed 12 hits and signed 11 free passes while a trio of Trav throwers were touched for 13 safeties and no walks. Iott was the winner on a three-hit, four inning relief stint. Churn took the loss.

Tonight, it'll be the same slate with Atlanta at Chattanooga, Mobile in Memphis, Birmingham at Nashville and New Orleans apprehensively visiting in Little Rock.
