

Andy Likes Miner 9's Performance

Texas-El Paso baseball mentor Andy Cohen was pleased and proud of the performance his Miner nine put as it swept a twin-bill from Ranger Junior College at Dudley Field.

The Miners edged a 2-1 victory behind the pitching of converted hurler Tim Peden in the first game and then scored three early runs in the second game and hung on for a 3-2 win.

"I felt proud because Ranger is one of the finest junior colleges in the country. They were ranked fourth in the nation last year," said Cohen.

COHEN SAID Peden had good stuff on the ball the first game and was using a fast ball and slider as his Sunday pitches.

The Miners came from behind to win the first game as Joel Kunster rapped an inside the park homer to tie it up. Lali Maldonado then drove in the winning run.

MIKE BELTRAN hurled the second game and kept Ranger intact until the late innings when the big Ranger first baseman tagged a high curve and sent it on a ride.
