PHOENIX (UPI)—Ken Reed hit an inside-the-park grand slam home run to highlight one of two Arizona State 11-run innings as the Sun Devils walloped Texas-El Paso 30-0 last night.

Reed's homer in the eighth inning rolled to the centerfield fence at the 430-foot mark and drove in Jerry Mantlo, Gary Andrews and Jim Otten.

The Devils scored 11 runs in the eighth on four singles, two doubles, a triple, Reed's homer, one error and two walks.

ARIZONA STATE also scored 11 runs in the third on seven hits, all singles, one error and five walks. Key hits of that outburst were two-run singles by Bump Wills and Rick Valley.

Winning pitcher Craig Swan, now 12-1, went the first five innings and was one of three pitchers used by Arizona State. The loss went to Mike Beltran, now 1-8, who went two innings and gave up seven runs.

The victory left Arizona State with a 49-3 season record and a 13-0 mark in the Western Athletic Conference. Texas-El Paso fell to 11-35 on the season and 0-13 in league play.

"We didn't get good pitching and from our three men who gave up 22 hits and 15 walks," Andy Cohen of the Miners said. "We also committed seven bad errors."
