

Miners Celebrate Only Win in WAC

Andy Cohen's 10th season as head baseball coach of the U.T. El Paso Miners has come to an end.

"It was his worst season, too," Andy says.

But the final day of the season had one consolation.

The Miners won their only game of the Western Athletic Conference season Saturday when they defeated New Mexico 3-2 in 10 innings on Larry Hunnicutt's single that scored Larry Maldonado. Ray Gregerson went all the way for the Miners.

THE LOBOS won the second game 13-1 in the Albuquerque park.

But the Miners celebrated like they had won the WAC pennant just the same because of their game victory. It gave them a 1-17 WAC record 12-39 for the whole season.

"We're going after some pitchers next year," said Andy in declaring that UTEP teams would be improved in the future.

WE HAVE A

... Ab

Our idea is to provide unde service a prospective invent prepare his idea for present Questions regarding desig packaging and distribution