

James Gives Bullpen Rest

After the doublebill that took more than five hours to play Tuesday night, the El Paso Sun Dodger bullpen was frayed around the edges.

Dennis James not only beat the Shreveport Captains last night at Dudley Field 9-1 but he gave some relief to that hard-pressed relief corps.

"I'm sure grateful that our bullpen got some rest," Stan Wasiak said after last night's game in which James threw a five-hitter and had 11 strikeouts for his sixth victory of the season against one defeat.

THE TWO TEAMS will be at it again tonight with Bernie Beckman going for El Paso.

Andy Cohen will manage the Sun Dodgers not only tonight but tomorrow and Saturday nights. Wasiak went to his home in Mobile, Ala., today to give his daughter, Mischelle, away in marriage to Gary Hendrickson Saturday. He will return Sunday.

Cohen, who works the first base coaching line, managed the Sun Dodgers once before this season. That was the night after Monty Basgall resigned as manager.

LAST NIGHT'S victory boosted the Sun Dodgers to a five-game lead over Amarillo in the Western Division of the Texas League.

James, who had 19 strikeouts in a Dudley Field game this season, didn't have quite as fast a ball last night.

"But I thought my slider was just as good," he said.

Wind and dust that came off threatening clouds that held the crowd down to 727 made pitching rough. "The wind for awhile worked against my slider," said James. "But I found the range again. 'I didn't walk anyone and that's one thing that pleases the bosses.'"

"HE WAS IN command all the way," said Wasiak.

The Sun Dodgers opened with two runs in the first inning. The Caps got their only run in the second on doubles by Randy Niles and Larry Milbourne. The Sun Dodgers added a run in the third and then broke it open with three in the fourth.

Bob Cummings had six runs batted in while Wayne Burney scored five times. Each got two hits as did Tim Johnson and Paul Flesner.

THE LOSER was Rick Hansen who is not to be confused with Larry Hansen who did the catching. They spell their last names a little differently.

Terry McDermott of the Sun Dodgers will be out of action for a couple of weeks more. In his examination by the Los Angeles Dodgers physician Monday, it was found that his hamstring pull still needed treatment. However, he may be available anytime now for pinch-hitting.

'As I Was Saying ...'

Parseghian, Adamian

ARA PARSEGHIAN, the Notre Dame football coach, may or may not have heard of Paul Adamian. If Armenians or people of Armenian extraction stick together, chances are Ara knows of the player who was in the offensive backfield for the U.T. El Paso Miners the last two years. They are both of that ethnic group.

If Parseghian had heard of Adamian, the only reason the Miner back didn't play for Notre Dame likely is that he's not quite fast enough.

Adamian has been a halfback and fullback for the Miners in the last two seasons. He's been a regular part of the time. He has led the team in rushing yardage in a number of games.

He's a workhorse type. Practices hard, give it 100 per cent. He's real coachable.

But for all that, Adamian doesn't quite have the speed that is needed in Western Athletic Conference competition from a running back.

Going to Defense

ONE OF THE MOST interesting experiments this fall on the UTEP team will be transferring of Adamian to a defensive back. He's going to start out as the No. 1 safety for the Miners.

The UTEP secondary has been wiped out by time. The eligibility of the group of last season has expired.

Naturally, this is going to be one of the focal points of the UTEP coaches in their fall practice. Defensively, it may be the most important department on a team. Somebody in the line may make a mistake without it being costly. But when a defensive back is inept or errs, it generally costs his team six points.

Speed is one of the big assets of defensive backs. Bobby Dobbs apparently thinks Adamian has enough speed to play safety and do some safety blitzing. He'll certainly be a hard hitter.

Adamian is from Birmingham, Mich., where the National PGA Tournament is being held today. The future safetyman of the Miners may be watching the event.

New Men Invasion

A HOST OF STRANGERS will be brought together when Dobbs and his staff hold their first UTEP football practice.

A good many of the candidates did not participate in spring practice. They were recruited later.
