

Bob Ingram

'As I Was Saying ...'

Back-To-Back Trips

SALT LAKE CITY — The U.T. El Paso Miners, here today to play Utah, return to the Wasatch Valley again next week, this time to play Brigham Young at Provo. It almost doesn't pay for the Miners to go home after today's game. The double trips to the Beehive State come to an end after this season. In 1973, the Miners play Utah in Salt Lake City on Sept. 22 and meet Brigham Young in El Paso on Dec. 1. On to Saturday's notepad jottings. Chris Schenkel of ABC called the Washington quarterback Sonny Sexkiller instead of Sixkiller in last week's Washington-Illinois game. What they're doing now: Ed Sparling, Don Haskins' former assistant at UTEP, is getting things ready for College of Steubenville's "Year of Challenge" in basketball. Signs of progress: The boom in men's cosmetics is fading out, according to Forbe's Magazine. Rudy Feldman, New Mexico University football coach who accepted the Baylor head coaching post last December and then backed out in one day, may not think of the Southwest Conference school. But somebody at Baylor remembers him. When the Baylor team returned from beating Missouri 27-0, a Bear fan at the Waco airport held a sign reading: "Who is Rudy Feldman?" And did you hear of the gal who yearned for a foreign sports car with a foreign sport attached?—The Fifth Down.

Lovorn Didn't Quit

BILLY CRAIGO, former U.T. El Paso quarterback who is employed at El Paso National Bank, calls to correct an item in this column. He said it was Dennis Niemeyer and not Neil Lovorn who quit as a backup quarterback on the UTEP team. Apologies to Lovorn. Arizona State public address man at the Kansas State game paged a man in the crowd and announced that his wife had just given birth to triplets and that she would appreciate seeing him at the Good Samaritan Hospital. The announcer added: "And congratulations to you from the Sun Devils." College basketball can schedule games a week earlier this year but they can't open practice any sooner. The starting date is Oct. 15. Andy Cohen has his UTEP baseballers out for fall training and he has more quality aspirants than he has had at the college. UTEP is slated to play Tulsa University next season in football and what was the punishment, if any, dealt to Tulsa coach Claude Gibson who rushed onto the field at the end of the Hurricane's game with Arkansas last week and grabbed Burns McKinney by the shirt and gave him a tongue-lashing? Will the Southwest Conference cut off games with Tulsa. McKinney, a former star back for Hardin-Simmons, played against Miner teams and has officiated a number of games here.

Keithley Rated High

PRO FOOTBALL SCOUTS have already made a pretty thorough study of senior college players who will be draftable next winter. Their system is: 1-0, immediate pro starter; 2-0, will make the squad; 3-0, prospect, keep an eye on. Here are their ratings of UTEP players: Gary Keithley 2.0, David Atkins 3.0, Brooks West 2.5, Pat Thompson 3.0. About Keithley, the scouting information says: "Impressed scouts in first season with Miners. Some swear he'll be best in the nation when draft rolls around. Added plus is he's a good punter." The running of Po James was about the only exciting thing in the Philadelphia-New York Giants game last Monday night. The former New Mexico Aggie has developed into one of the hardest-hitting backs in pro football. The National and American Leagues ended their long regular seasons this week. Some of the teams played great and others just extended spring training right on through April to October. Wonder if there's anyway fundamentals (football) can be like the first three letters of the word—FUN. Rome's Coliseum may close but El Paso County's Coliseum is good for a lot more rodeos, wrestling matches, ice shows, circus, basketball games, etc.

WORLD SERIES POEM

Rose is a Red,
Vida is Blue,
Orcs and Tigers
Could be there, too.