

Andy Cohen Selected Phillies' Infield Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies announced Saturday the appointment of Andy Cohen, 55, of El Paso, Tex., as infield coach.

Cohen broke into baseball in 1925 after graduating from the University of Alabama.

He played second base for the New York Giants from 1926 to 1929 and hit .294 his last year with the Giants.

He had been a minor league manager from 1939 to 1958 except for a three-year hitch in the Armed Forces. Last year Cohen piloted Denver, a New York Yankees farm. He also has managed farm clubs for the Pittsburgh Pirates, Chicago White Sox, Milwaukee Braves (Eau Claire) and Los Angeles Dodgers.
