

TRIPLE PLAY RHUBARB—A triple play by the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night at County Stadium created quite a rhubarb involving the Philadelphia Phillies and umpire Augie Donatelli. The bases were loaded and B. G. Smith lined a drive to Chuck Cottier for one out. Cottier fired the ball to Joe Adcock to double up Tony Taylor at first. Adcock hurled the ball to Del Crandall at the plate, shown here as pitcher Dick Farrell crosses the plate. Crandall then threw to Eddie Mathews at third for the triple play, Farrell failing to tag up believing Cottier had trapped the ball. Lower photo shows Phillies Gene Mauch, Peanuts Lowery and Andy Cohen arguing with Donatelli after the incident. Mauch was ejected.—Unifax.
