10,000 Fans Expected to See Indians, Cooper Make Debut

Someone's Wrong

DOUBLE DUTY

Coop Second Recent Manager to Start

The decision of Manager Walker Cooper to catch Barry Latman in tonight's season baseball opener between the Denver Bears and Indianapolis Indians marks only the second time that a Tribe playing manager has appeared in the opening game lineup.

The only other playing manager in recent years to play in an opener was Al Lopez, also a catcher, in 1948. In that game, Lopez singled on his first trip, grounded out and flied out twice.

The Tribe's other playing catcher-manager, Gabby Hartnett, did not appear in the opening game, but caught the second game of the 1942 season and went hitless on four trips. Two other playing managers, Jimmy Brown in 1947 and Don Gutteridge in 1951, did not appear in the opening-game lineup.

Asked whether he could recall any unusual or thrilling experiences in season openers during his long and illustrious career, Cooper replied: "Can't think of any, they were all the same to me."

Glen Miller, director of the Chicago White Sox farm system, is flying up from Hollywood, Fla., to attend tonight's game. Miller also will huddle with Tribe officials on the reassignment of players on the Indianapolis roster who didn't make the trip north, and also a few who are here, including Don Prohovich, who has not been placed on the Tribe active list.

Outfielder Jim McAnany, who was called to his home in California by the death of his father, is expected to rejoin the club tonight . . . Also due tonight is Phil Mateja, the former Purdue football player and shortstop on a lend-look basis from Washington. He is driving up from Florida.

Sam Mele, who missed the spring training session because of contract differences, took part in yesterday's workout, but club officials say he will not be placed on the active list until he is deemed in condition to play. Sam says he worked out at his home in Quincy, Mass.

Another returnee in yesterday's workout was Ken Yoke, the southpaw hurler drafted from Amarillo. Yoke left the club in spring training and at the time indicated he wouldn't come back until June. However, he was in uniform yesterday and pitched a round of batting practice. —LPK.

ARMY TAKES KUBEK FOR SIX MONTHS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Tony Kubek, whom New York Yankee Manager Casey Stengel expected to be his regular shortstop this season, will be sworn in Thursday for six months of active duty with the Army Reserve.

Maj. Gerald Mulrine, commander of the south side Army Reserve training center, said last year's American League rookie of the year, will leave Milwaukee May 24 to begin active duty.

The 22-year-old Kubek passed his physical test last Wednesday during a mysterious trip to his home town. Kubek must enlist by Friday to be eligible for the Army's six-month reserve program.

Only 3 Holdovers in Opening Lineup

By LESTER KOELLING

Walker Cooper, a veteran of 18 National League seasons, a seven-time All-Star selection and a three-time performer in World Series competition, will be seen at Victory Field tonight in the dual role of manager and catcher of the Indianapolis Indians.

The occasion will be the opening of the American Association season in which the "new look" Tribe will battle the Denver Bears, Junior World Series champions, at 7:45. There is no indication of a sellout crowd, but if the weather clears, Tribe officials estimate a turnout of nearly 10,000.

The Indians, with only three holdovers in the starting lineup, face the barrier without a single prediction for a first-division finish from league writers. The consensus places the Indians seventh, just under Charleston and well ahead of Louisville.

Koelling

But, as Tribe President Ownie Bush remarked at the Ipalco father and son dinner last night: "We may have a lot of surprises for the writers. If we can come up with the two of three fellows we're after, we could become a very good ball club and cause a lot of trouble. And if our young players 'fall out of bed' as good hitters, we might even have a chance for the pennant."

The young players to whom Bush referred are John Callison, the sensational rookie outfielder who has tremendous speed and a terrific arm, and Joe Hicks, another outfielder, also fast with a good arm. If they hit Association pitching, the Indians will become the "sleeper" in the A.A. race.

Other newcomers in the opening lineup tonight will be Bobby Winkles, the Texas League All-Star shortstop last year at Tulsa; Bob Hale, the talented hitting outfielder-first baseman obtained from the Baltimore organization, and Joe Altobelli, who isn't exactly a newcomer but whose last season with the Tribe was 1956.

The returnees from last year's team are Vince Garcia, who has been shifted to third base; Charley Williams, the all-around utility man who will start at second, and Barry Latman, who, like last year, will be the opening-night pitcher. Cooper's decision to catch was a last-minute one, although he had indicated earlier that he might do the receiving "depending on the weather and the lights."

The Denver Bears, under Manager Andy Cohen, do not appear as formidable on paper as they did last year, but they still will have seven returnees in the opening lineup. They are Curt Roberts at second, George Wilson, Dick Sanders and Jim Pisoni in the outfield, Zeke Bella, an outfielder at first base; John Blanchard, just returned by the Yankees, catching, and Ben Flowers on the mound.

The Bears have lost such tremendous hitters as Marv Throneberry and Norm Siebern, but hope to atone for that with stronger pitching and a tighter defense. Denver was picked to finish third in the consensus selections behind Minneapolis and Wichita, doped to make a photo-finish of the A.A. pennant race.

Pete 1 of 2 Giant-Killers Still Swinging in Western

By Associated Press

DELRAY BEACH, Fla.—Mason Rudolph of Ft. Chaffee, Ark., has the rating of specialist third class in the Army—and also that of the hottest player in the Western Amateur golf tournament. He got the chance today to prove his right to the latter.

The chubby, round-faced 23-year-old with the built-in grin met Don Bisplinghoff of Miami Beach, Fla., in a 36-hole semi-final match at the Country Club of Florida. Bisplinghoff himself has been slightly on the torrid side.

The other semifinal brought together two little giant killers in Pete Dye of Indianapolis and James (Billy) Key of Columbus, Ga. Dye eliminated Jack Penrose of Miami yesterday, 2 and 1. Key made a former champion out of Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., 4 and 3.

It was Rudolph and Bisplinghoff, however, who won quarter-final matches breezing. Rudolph swamped Lee Raymond of Miami, 11 and 10. Bisplinghoff defeated Gene Andrews of Beverly Hills, Cal., 5 and 4, after holding a 7-up lead at the end of the morning round.

Dye was one under par for his morning 18 as Penrose took a three-over-par 75, and Dye went to lunch with a four-hole edge. Penrose cut the margin to 1 up on the 10th hole of the afternoon round, but never could catch the smooth-stroking Dye. Pete came out of a trap 10 feet from the pin and sank the putt on the 16th for a half to hold his two-stroke edge at that point, and then halved the short 17th to end the match.

Bruins Hope for Better Luck

By Associated Press

BOSTON — The Montreal Canadiens held a game advantage over the Boston Bruins today on the bounce of three shots which hit the goal post in the third game of the battle for hockey's coveted Stanley Cup.

Fabulous Maurice (The Rocket) Richard and little brother Henri (Pocket Rocket) accounted for all goals Sunday as the Canadiens defeated the Bruins, 3-0, to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven series.

The 36-year-old Rocket connected on 25-foot drives for the first and third goals. Henri scored on a 50-footer.

Despite the victory, Coach Toe Blake and his Canadiens still looked forward to a rugged series against the Bruins. The fourth game is scheduled here tonight, the fifth in Montreal Thursday.

Frisco Council Votes Stadium Go-Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—With major league baseball in San Francisco a reality today, the city has taken steps to provide a major league stadium to be ready for the 1959 season.

The Board of Supervisors voted, 9-2, yesterday to drop a study of a downtown alternative site, then unanimously to go ahead with construction of the proposed Giants stadium at Candlestick Point on the southeastern outskirts of town.
