

THE BULLPEN

By Lester Koelling

EDDIE SAWS LIMB OFF

HOLLYWOOD, Fla.—Scholarly Eddie Sawyer has no illusions about his Philadelphia Phillies. He's resigned to the fact they'll probably finish last in the National League. But he has high hopes for the future.

"We're rebuilding and that takes time," said Sawyer yesterday before the Phils downed the Indianapolis Indians, 4-0, in an exhibition game. "We have a fine bunch of young players who should be ready in a few years."

Regarding the near all-rookie lineup which he plans to start this season, Sawyer said:

"We couldn't win with the older fellows last year, so why not try it with the youngsters?"

Anything we do should be an improvement and I believe the fans will tolerate the youngsters more than they will the older fellows.

"Our older fellows, like Wally Post (former Tribe home-run king), Harry Anderson and a few others haven't looked at all good this spring, and until they start producing, the kids have got the job."

What did he think about everyone picking the Phils to finish last?

"They have to pick us there because of the kids. No one knows what they can do. But I'll tell you this, we won't be the worst team in the majors and we won't embarrass the National League."

Sawyer hesitated to compare his present crop of youngsters to the Whiz Kids that won the pennant for him a dozen years ago.

"The situation is a little different," he said. "I had all those boys when I managed in the minor leagues and when we got to Philadelphia I knew just what they could do. It's a little different now because so many of these boys are strangers to me—like Johnny Callison (with Indianapolis the last two years), Bobby Malkmus, B. G. Smith and a few others. We'll just have to play 'em and learn."

Regarding Indianapolis, Sawyer said the working agreement should "work out real good for you." He pointed out that some 30 players still were with the Buffalo club and that the Phils had to cut three before opening the season.

"It looks like Buffalo wants the older players," he said, "and that should help Indianapolis because we have some fine-looking young players that we want to play, and we would rather have them at Indianapolis than at Buffalo. You're going to get all the help you want—except maybe in pitching where we don't have too much to offer."

Sawyer indicated the best help for Indianapolis may not come until the final cutdown date in May because "we have to take a good look at some of these boys and give 'em a good shot."

Andy Cohen, Tribe manager in 1937 and now first-base coach with the Phils, expressed some surprise that Indianapolis tied up with the Phils, but added, "It was a

TRIBE BOX SCORE

PHILA. (4)	INDPLS. (8)
ab h rbi	ab h rbi
Malkmus, ss 5 1 1	Iglesias, ss 4 0 0
Dark, 3b 1 0 0	Raines, 3b 4 2 0
G. Andrsn, 3b 2 0 0	Beard, rf 4 0 0
Curry, rf 3 0 0	Dupen, cf 2 0 0
Walters, rf 1 0 0	Johnston, lf 0 0 0
Beuchee, lb 4 1 2	Synget, 3b 3 0 0
Callison, lf 3 0 0	Van Dusen, cf 2 0 0
Keegan, p 1 0 0	Emery, lb 2 1 0
B. G. Smith 5 0 0	R. Smith, c 2 0 0
Lescie, 3b-3b 5 0 0	Boyer, p 1 0 0
Coker, c 3 2 0	Bunker, p 1 0 0
Thomas, c 0 0 0	C. Deutsch 1 0 0
Roberts, p 2 0 0	Kraty, p 0 0 0
aPost, lf 1 1 0
	37 4 13

aWalked for Roberts in seventh.
bWalked for Curry in seventh.
cGrounded out for Bunker in eighth.
Lescie scored on Raines' error in fourth.

Philadelphia	000 100 300-4
Indianapolis	000 000 000-0

E-Malkmus, Raines 2, Synget 2.
3b-Lescie, DP-G. Anderson to Beuchee; G. Anderson to Malkmus to Beuchee. L-Philadelphia 13, Indianapolis 1.

PITCHING SUMMARY

	IP	H	R	ER	BB	SO
Roberts (W)	4	2	0	0	0	3
Keegan	2	0	0	1	0	0
Boyer (L)	5	1	1	0	2	3
Bunker	2	5	3	2	3	2
Kraty	1	0	0	0	1	1

WP-Keegan, U-Gentry (AA), Sudol (NL) and Crawford (NL). T-2:14. A-345 paid.

good move for you. This club will help you."

Cohen also was surprised in getting a coaching job with the Phils.

"When I was let out at Denver (1958) and went into business," related Andy, "I told my wife that I was through with baseball unless I went back to the big leagues."

"For 30 years I had tried to get a job as coach or manager in the majors, and then all of a sudden I get a call from the Phils asking me whether I would be interested in a job coaching infielders. You know what the answer was, and right quick."

In the game with the Phils yesterday, the Indians solved Robin Roberts and his assortment of slow stuff for only three hits during his six-inning outing. Larry Raines got two of 'em, but also committed two of the Tribe's four errors.

Roberts, no fire-baller, was in and out, up and down with speeds that ranged from slow to slower. His mound rival, Cloyd Boyer, was at his spring's best as he limited the Phils to one hit in his five innings. The run against him was unearned, the result of two Indianapolis errors.

The San Francisco Giants offered a pitcher to Indianapolis the other day, but nothing definite had been decided. Yesterday, however, the pitcher, Don Hyman, walked into the Tribe's clubhouse and said he had been optioned from the Giants' Tacoma (Wash.) farm in the Pacific Coast League.

A hard-throwing fast-baller, Hyman was 5-1 at Phoenix, Ariz., last year, but the record is somewhat deceiving. Phoenix finished last and, as Hyman said, "24 of the 68 earned runs scored against me were home runs in that light air at Phoenix." (The Phoenix