

Tribe Captures Fourth Straight

Stuart, Fla.—Another rookie became an entry in the Indianapolis Indians pitching sweepstakes yesterday.

He is 22-year-old Phil Brown, whose mound showing was the feature of the Tribe's 8-3 decision over Miami. The victory was the fourth in a row for the Indians in Suntan league competition after one loss.

Brown had a perfect three innings against the Marlins as they were unable to put a man on base against his offerings. And his fielders didn't even have a difficult chance.

The 6-1 righthander from Lansing, Mich., was signed into the Chicago White Sox organization four years ago. His best season was at Waterloo in 1955 with a 10-4 standing while being used both as a starter and reliever.

He dropped off last year to a 2-6 mark at San Diego but gave Manager Andy Cohen a cause for gratification with his fine control yesterday.

Brown has an excellent change of pace and a good curve.

THE VETERAN Al Papai hurled the first four innings, the longest stint for any Tribe slabsman so far this spring. He gave up two runs, one on Cal Abrams' homer when a high knuckle ball failed to break.

Bob Lowe, a recruit in the Chicago organization, gave up the other tally.

Indianapolis had its home run clouters, too, with John Romano belting his second four-bagger in the two games he has played since joining the squad.

The righthanded batting catcher sent this drive over the right field wall at the 350-foot mark.

Rookie Outfielder Ron Cooper also solved Miami pitching for a homer, propelling one over the fence in right center for 360 feet.

VINCE GARCIA rapped out three of the Indians' 12 hits and Charley Williams collected a pair of doubles but the International Leaguers' hurlers managed to do considerable other damage to themselves.

The Tribe obtained one run on Hank Bolinda's balk, the pitcher suddenly coming to a stop while in his windup with runners on second and third.

Bob Milo twice unloosed wild pitches with runners on third to account for another pair of runs. Another came across as Jim Davis heaved the ball out of the park trying to make a play at third from right field.

HIT-AND-RUN: The Indians will travel to West Palm Beach today to meet the Kansas City "B" team.

One of the veterans with Miami is Catcher Clyde McCullough, now in his 23rd year of baseball. He was signed as a free agent under his prerogative as a major league 10-year man.

The Marlins' home training ground is called Sailfish Park and they reside at Pelican Hotel.

Most of yesterday's contest was played in a drizzle.
