Latman Tribe's First To Pitch 9

Jep Cadou Jr. CALLS 'EM — Sports Editor

A REMATCH of the controversial New Orleans fight between Ralph Dupas and Vince Martinez now is being sought by Promoter Al Farb for Indianapolis on Race Eve, Wednesday, May 29.

Farb said yesterday that he has sent letters to managers of both gladiators making an offer for the fight here, provided they are recovered from injuries they suffered in Monday night's close fight in the Crescent City.

Dupas, sixth-ranked lightweight in the country, won a narrow decision over Martinez, who is rated No. 6 in the welterweight class. Dupas suffered facial cuts and Martinez sustained an injury to his right arm.

THE INDIANAPOLIS promoter said that he had made the pair the offer of "the standard purse for a television fight, $4,000 plus 25 per cent of the gate."

If it can be arranged, the fight probably will be held at Victory Field and may or may not be televised.

"If I don't get Dupas and Martinez, I'll start working on another deal," Farb said. "But if I can't get two top boys here, I don't want to attempt anything."

A feature of the dinner will be the awarding of prizes to the winner and second and third-place finishers in point standings for 1956 in each of the nine divisions of USAC racing.

Principal individuals to be honored will be Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, the first USAC driving champion; 1956 500-mile race winner Pat Flaherty, of Chicago, who was second in the championship standings, and Don Freeland of Indianapolis, who was third.

Under the old reign of the American Automobile Association contest board, the awards were presented at a dinner on the West Coast.

Bush Checks In From Tribe Camp

The Indians are "checking in" at home now in preparation for the season's opener at Victory Field Tuesday night.

President Owen J. "Donie" Bush arrived in Indianapolis from Florida spring training camp late yesterday.

Coach Johnny Hutchings is en route by auto.

Manager Andy Cohen and his Tribe play their last spring training game today at Hollywood, Fla. against Toronto of the International League, then hop a plane for Indianapolis. The team will arrive early tomorrow morning.

THE INDIANS meet the Minneapolis Millers in their opener Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. Pre-game ceremonies, arranged by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will start at 7:15.

The front office is winding up last-minute preparations for the curtain-raiser.

As an added service to fans who still don't have tickets for the opener, Victory Field offices will be open for ticket sales tomorrow from 1 until 5 p.m. The six money-saving season ticket plans and $10 admission books also will be available. Season ticket plans will be offered only until Tuesday.

Today's box office hours at the ball park are 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. The downtown ticket office at the Ross and Babcock Travel Bureau in the Claypool Hotel lobby will be open today from 9:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

DESPITE the un-baseball-like weather, ticket sales continued to mount toward the $100,000 advance goal. To date, fans have purchased $61,205 worth of all types of tickets.

Good seats in most sections of the ball park still are available.

Ratterman Quits Pro Football

Cleveland (AP) — Quarterback George Ratterman last night announced his retirement from professional football.

The announcement came shortly after the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League asked waivers on the 30-year-old former Notre Dame star who was out with a leg injury most of last season.

"I had planned to be in Cleveland next week and was going to tell (Coach) Paul Brown then about my decision," Ratterman said at his home in Fort Thomas, Ky. "We talked briefly about my plans at the end of last season, but decided to let things slide until after Paul's trip to Florida.

Jackson's Poke Decides 3-1 Tilt

By MAX GREENWALD, Star Sports Writer

Fort Pierce, Fla. — Well, fellow stockholders of Indians, Inc., you can be assured two of your Indianapolis players are ready for the American Association season opener Tuesday night.

They are Barry Latman, young pitcher who held Toronto's sluggers to six hits yesterday, and Ron Jackson, whose home run provided the markers for the 3-1 triumph.

LATMAN depended principally on a high fast ball in becoming the first Indianapolis pitcher to go the nine-inning route this spring. The 20-year-old righthander, 14-14 last year at Memphis, had eight strikeouts and none of the six hits were for extra bases.

He held a total of 19 strikeouts in exhibition campaigns with only two earned runs in his 22 innings.

"I wanted to see how far Latman could go," said Manager Andy Cohen, " and his performance against Toronto enhanced his chances of drawing the opening game assignment."

Previously, Cohen had indicated a preference for one of his veterans, such as Al Papai, for the opener against Minneapolis. But now the skipper isn't ready to say definitely.

JACKSON continued to be the big man at the plate for the Indians as he clubbed out his 12th hit in 39 times at bat.

His clout yesterday cleared the fence in left center at the 370-foot mark. The 6-7 first baseman connected with a low inside curve delivered by southpaw Johnny Schmitz with two on in the sixth inning. The three hits in this frame were the only ones in the three innings worked by Schmitz, who was with Boston and Baltimore last year and throws a slow, slow curve.

The three runs almost could come in the unearned category as they followed a "rock" by Toronto Catcher Mike Roark.

Latman, who had a double and a single among the Indian's seven hits off three pitchers, led off the sixth with his one-baser.

DICK MEANS bunted in front of the plate and Roark got his glove under the ball. A double play loomed as Latman was doing some heads-down sprinting for second.

But Roark wasn't watching Latman and deliberately dropped the ball with the idea of making an easy double play. And, by that time Latman was on second. Means was declared out after some discussion among Dixie Walker, the Maple Leaf manager; Cohen, and Tomey Ravasheire, International League umpire.

The out was ruled because the catcher deliberately deceived the base runner.

Latman was ordered back to first and Gene Sheets singled to left. With two out, Jackson then blasted his homer.

A WALK, an infield out and a single by Hector Rodriguez gave the Leafs their run in the second.

The Indians had three hits, one to an inning, off Jim Pearce, the lanky righthander who was at Omaha in 1956. There was only one safety in the final three frames off lefty Ross Grimsley, also formerly of Omaha.

The outcome, which put the Indians' Suntan League standing at 11-5, was especially gratifying to Cohen as he used some players from the Chicago White Sox camp to replace some Tribesmen already headed North.

THE OTHER Tribesmen will leave by plane at midnight tonight for Indianapolis.

The final exhibition game will be played at Hollywood this afternoon against Toronto.

USAC Drivers, Owners Register Double Victory

By JEP CADOU JR.
Sports Editor

United States Auto Club's sprint car drivers and owners yesterday won a double victory in a heated session with track promoters in the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel.

The USAC men succeeded in persuading the promoters to abandon a proposal to switch to inverted starts in the races of sprint programs because of the added danger involved. And, they set a standard scale of flat purses for sprint races and forced acceptance by one reluctant promoter.

SPRINT CAR racing, the cradle of many a top 500-mile race driver, has fallen on lean days.

Tracks at Salem and Winchester, Ind., Dayton and New Bremen, O., are involved in the controversy, which is the result of declining crowds at sprint programs plus the pinch of inflation on owners and drivers.

Andy Linden, Indianapolis driver, led the attack on the proposal to start the fast qualifiers at the back of the pack in the heat races. "We think it will get us hurt," said Linden as spokesman for the sprint drivers.

Russell Barnard, Salem promoter and spokesman for his group, said the request for inverted heat starts was "like a drowning fellow grasping for a straw."

"WE'VE LOST a lot of race fans," he contended. "We've got to give them some kind of inducement to come back. Try it once and if it doesn't work, we'll do away with it."

But, Lee Elkins of Kalamazoo, Mich., car owners' spokesman, protested the inverted start would be hazardous to both drivers and mechanics and was backed up by Robert Martindale, USAC official, who said that inverting sprint starts was a "very dangerous business" and resulted in the deaths of two drivers when it was tried once several years ago.

The sprint car, between the championship Speedway car and the midget in size, customarily runs on high-banked, half-mile paved tracks like those at Salem, Winchester and Dayton.

Driver Rex Easton of Springfield, Ill., said that if races are inverted the fast Offenhausers at the back of the field might "run right over" the slower stock-block jobs starting in the front.

AFTER THE overwhelming protests, Barnard backed down on the inverted start, saying "I don't want to get anybody hurt."

Barnard first refused to agree to the schedule of purse demands asked by the drivers and owners, based on a $6,000 purse for the standard program topped by a 30-lap feature. The Salem operator threatened to cancel his first sprint car program set for Sunday, April 29, and stalked out of the meeting.

But he returned later and agreed to the demands, with the provision that there will be no extra "deal" money for name drivers, no percentage guarantee and that drivers must have their entry blanks in two weeks before a race so he will have time to publicize the stars.

Promoter Frank Funk, who handles Dayton and New Bremen, delayed a final decision on whether to meet the USAC terms, while Promoter Blair Ratliff of Dayton failed even to appear at the meeting.

Paddle Tourney Has 2 Upsets

South Bend, Ind. (AP)—Play in the men's and women's division of the 27th annual U.S. table tennis tourney opened yesterday with only two ranked players falling by the wayside.

Keith Porter of Kenosha, Wis., 14th ranked nationally, was beaten by Bob Fields of Pasadena, Cal., 21-18, 20-22, 22-18, 21-13 as the men's field was trimmed down to 16 players.

Mrs. Carol Jaeger of Milwaukee came from behind to upset sixth-ranked Carol Liechty of South Bend, 18-21, 16-21, 21-15, 22-20, 21-19. Eight players remain in the women's division.

Erwin Klein of Los Angeles, defending champion in both the men's and junior divisions, and second-ranked Bernard Bukiet of Cleveland advanced to the final 16 with ease.

Payton Gets Lebanon Job

Lebanon, Ind. (AP) — Mel Payton, one of Cliff Wells' products at Tulane University, will coach Lebanon High School basketball team the next two years.

The former college and pro player was given a two-year contract yesterday, ending speculation that the job might go to Ray Crowe, coach of the 1955 and 1956 state champions at Indianapolis Attucks.

Crowe filled out an application sent him by the Lebanon school board, but was not interviewed for the post.

Payton for the last two years has coached at Western High School of Howard County.

A 1944 graduate of Martinsville High School, Payton played pro ball with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association in 1951-1952 and the Indianapolis Olympians in 1952-53.

Farina To Try 500 Race Again

The 41st annual 500-mile race took on an international air yesterday with the announcement that Giuseppe (Nino) Farina of Italy will make another attempt and the entry of a Maserati Grand Prix car.

Speedway officials announced receipt of an entry from Farina, former world's driving champion, of a new car composed of the conventional American elements, a Kurtis-Kraft body and Meyer-Drake engine.

FARINA WAS listed as owner of the car but it is understood it will be sponsored by an American oil company. Farina tried last year with an Italian-built Ferrari but failed to get it up to qualifying speed.

The Maserati, built in 1953, was entered by Marguerite Morgan of Paterson, N.J., was one of four other cars entered yesterday for the May 30 speed classic, as entries began to mount with the deadline of midnight Monday drawing close. It is powered by a 93-inch Maserati engine.

No driver was listed for the car, to be known as a Morgan Engineering Special, nor for another entered by Eddie Shreve, Indianapolis policeman, and to be known as the Safety Auto Glass Special. The latter is the old Don Lee Mercedes, of 1939 vintage rebuilt and with a 210-cubic inch Jaguar power plant installed.

Other entries were from Edward I. Gdula of Hamtramck, Mich., who named John Federicks of Royal Oak, Mich., as driver of his Gdula Special and Lee Elkins, of Kalamazoo, Mich., who did not name a driver for his second McNamara Special. He previously had nominated Andy Linden of Speedway to drive one car.

Lawrence's County Meet Stock Up

Lawrence Central stock in the Marion County high school track meet April 23 at Tech went up considerably yesterday afternoon.

Lawrence, Capital District Conference meet champ the last seven years, clobbered Warren Central's defending County champs in a dual meet at Warren, 78¾ to 38¼.

WARREN'S been County winner 11 times the last 13 years (19 times since the first one in 1926). From the size of yesterday's score, it's a good bet Lawrence makes the grade for the first time.

Warren scored only three firsts and a share of the three-way tie in the pole vault. Lawrence Hurdle Ace Bruce Bubener swept his specialties, setting a 20.8 seconds school record in the lows.

Crispus Attucks also qualified for membership in the local chapter of the Polar Bear Club, copping a 60-57 meet at Washington in the almost unbearable cold weather.
