Mayor Picks Oliver Head Of Council

tor of Veterinary Services Dr. Lea Hutchinson.

Mayor deWetter said it was highly significant that more than 200 citizens had agreed to serve on the Social Action Council, representing a cross section of the community. He said he was elated at the response that indicated an individual awareness of City needs, some of which can be solved by the government officials and the rest by cooperative participation by the private sector.

He said the Council organization has been kept simple and streamlined for highest effectiveness and that it can be changed to meet future requirements.

The Council function will be to study and analyze needs in all areas of community life, develop a program of effective action and establish priorities and define specific objectives for the common good of El Paso.

The subcommittees will hold first meetings next month, with a schedule of meeting times and places to be announced later.

The Rev. Mr. Oliver said the Executive Committee plans to maintain direct contact with City Council for direct involvement in all programs.

He said all City codes will be reviewed and updated, the Housing Code will be checked for compliance to eliminate existing blight and halt further deterioration, assist displaced families and strive to meet future housing needs. He thanked Mayor deWetter for the opportunity to serve El Paso and asked all to join in the task for the betterment and good of the community.

Mayor deWetter said the outline of the Council objectives denoted the seriousness of its purpose and the scope of its activity. All meetings will be open to the public and any citizen with special skills or interests is invited to participate.

The mayor charged the Council with looking for new approaches to problems, to seek new and innovative ways for solution.

The Rev. Mr. Oliver holds a Master's Degree from San Francisco Theological Seminary and held pastorates in San Francisco and Santa Clara, Calif., before coming to El Paso in 1965. He is a member of El Paso Family Service, El Paso Council of Churches and El Paso Ministerial Association.
