

Miners Take On Texas Tech Today

Special to EL PASO TIMES

LUBBOCK — Hoping to improve on their 4-3 record, University of Texas at El Paso baseballers will engage the Texas Tech Red Raiders here Friday and Saturday in a three-game series.

Coach Andy Cohen's Miners took two out of the three game series from New Mexico last weekend at El Paso to run their record to 4-3 and set the stage for a heavy slate of games.

After the three game series with the Red Raiders, the Miners return to El Paso to meet six Colorado teams for two weeks. In fact, the Miners have 13 games in 12 days on the books when they return home.

Cohen has not chosen a pitching rotation for the Texas Tech series but he is expected to use Harry Milner and Marc Bombard in two of the games.

Milner has a 2-0 record and an impressive 0.06 earned run average. The portsider has allowed only 10 hits and one earned run in 15 innings on the hill.

Outfielders Bob Prokopowicz and Al Kimball continue to lead the Miners at the plate. Prokopowicz, a transfer from Albuquerque University, is clubbing the ball at a .471 clip while Kimball, a footballer, is stinging the ball at a .458 pace. Kimball has three triples and three doubles among his 11 base raps and leads the Miners with 20 total bases.

Cohen is somewhat concerned about his pitching after the combined efforts soared from a respectable 1.51 to a gaudy 5.24 following the New Mexico series. The Miners have been tagged for 57 base knocks and have issued 27 free tickets in seven games.

However, the Miners have roughed up the opposing pitchers during the seven games. As a team, the Miners have had 55 hits and drew 24 bases on balls to give the opposing pitchers a 5.87 ERA.
