

Artesia To Conduct Clinics

Special to EL PASO TIMES

ARTESIA, N.M. — "Camp of Champs" sports clinics in baseball, football and basketball will be held this summer at the College of Artesia, Artesia, N.M. and the College of Santa Fe, Santa Fe, N.M. for boys from eight years to college age with well-known sports personalities such as coach Don Haskins of the University of Texas at El Paso basketball team in charge.

Haskins, one of the winningest active coaches in college basketball and the only coach besides UCLA's John Wooden to have a team win the NCAA championship in the last five years, will conduct the basketball clinic to be held from June 14-19. He will be assisted by Dick Gibbs, Tony Vasquez, Bob Doyle and Mike Quimby of the U.T. El Paso basketball team.

The football clinic, to be held from June 14-19 at the College of Artesia, will be conducted by former U.T. El Paso football stars Chuck Hughes and Bob Stewart. Hughes now plays professionally with the Philadelphia Eagles and Stewart with the Denver Broncos. They will be assisted by Sonny Crews of El Paso, now playing football for the University of Denver, and Charles Truby, 1969 quarterback for the Coronado High School who was named to the All-District, 1-AAAA football teams.

The baseball clinic will be conducted by U.T. El Paso Baseball Coach Andy Cohen and Henry Jacobs, head baseball coach at Albuquerque, N.M.'s Manzano High School.

Facilities of the College of Santa Fe and the College of Artesia will be used for housing boys who enroll in the program. For New Mexico residents, the clinics are open to boys from eight years to college age, while Texas students must be between the ages of eight and 14 and must plan to compete in high school sports.

Information on the camps may be obtained from Camp of Champs Headquarters, in El Paso. Reservations for the June camp should be made by May 28 and for the August session by June 29. A doctor's statement of physical fitness should be made at the time of application.
