Champs Clinics To Help All Boys

Boys of all ages will be able to register for Camp of Champs Sports Clinics which will be held at the College of Artesia from June 14-19 and College of Santa Fe from Aug. 2-7.

The baseball program is open to boys in both Texas and New Mexico. Football and basketball camps are open to boys in New Mexico, but Texas boys who plan to play varsity sports next year may not attend the clinics. This is a Texas Interscholastic League regulation.

The clinics will strive to enrich each boy's background in fundamentals, to instill confidence in himself and in his skills and to plant the seeds of sportsmanship through clean and fair play. Under the leadership of the pros and players, the boys will learn basic skills and knowledge that will aid him in competition with others and help him to become a well-rounded sportsman.

Included in the activities at the camps will be volleyball, horseshoes, tournament games and swimming, at the Artesia camp only.

Registration dates have been extended until June 8 for the Artesia camp and July 10 for the Santa Fe camp.

The basketball sessions at both camps will be headed by Don Haskins, University of Texas at El Paso head coach; Dick Gibbs, classified as one of the best defensive players in the nation; Bob Doyle, named to the All Conference Team; Mike Quimby, forward for the Flying Miners; Tony Vasquez, a junior forward for the Miners, and Dan Whitlock, who will be playing with the Miners next year.

Heading up the football session at Artesia will be Chuck Hughes, pro with the Philadelphia Eagles; Bob Stewart, pro with the Denver Broncos; Sonny Cews, flanker with the University of Colorado; Charles Truby, quarterback for Coronado High School who has won sports honors and signed a letter of intent with the Colorado School of Mines, and Stormy Eaton, National Trampoline and Tumbling Champion.

The baseball session at Santa Fe will be lead by Andy Cohen, former shortstop with the New York Giants and now head coach at the U.T. El Paso; Jim Greggerson, pitcher for the Miners; Johnny Miller, senior outfielder and first baseman with the Miners; Henry Jacobs, head coach for Manzano High School in Albuquerque; Steve Mims, winner of many honors in the sports field, and Mark Miller, varsity player at Eastwood High School who led in runs scored and runs batted in in district 2-AAA for 1970.

Additional information concerning the camps including bus service details can be obtained by writing Camp of Champs Headquarters, Box 26315, El Paso, Tex., 79926.

PIGSKIN POINTERS — Chuck Hughes, pro with the Philadelphia Eagles football team, points out the proper method of holding the football to David Prewitt, Steven Prewitt and James Baker during lessons at the Camp of Champs Sports Clinic.

DEMONSTRATES PROPER TECHNIQUE — Johnny Miller, instructor at the Camp of Champs Sports Clinic, demonstrates the proper techniques of fielding to Glen Thrash, Aubra Franklin and Steve Prewitt as Coach Andy Cohen points out to the boys exactly what he is doing.

MINER IN ACTION — Bob Doyle, Miner basketball player named to the All Conference Team, is shown taking a rebound during the season. Doyle will assist Coach Don Haskins in the basketball sessions at the Camp of Champs Sports Clinic.
