

Indians To Open With Nine-Game Home Schedule

The Indianapolis Indians will open the American Association season with a nine-game home stand facing four western teams in the first home schedule.

Minneapolis' Millers will help the Indians open the season April 16. All seats in Victory Field are reserved for that game.

Minneapolis will again play the Indians April 17 before the St. Paul Saints pull into town. The Saints also will play two days, April 18 and 19, before moving out for the Omaha Cardinals. Omaha will make a three day stand.

On April 22 and 23, the Denver Bears, New York Yankee farm club and last year's AA runnerup, will visit Naptown.

The Indians then leave for a three-week road trip before returning home for an eight-game stand. It will be in the second appearance at Victory Field the Indians will play their first Sunday home doubleheader of the season.

Wichita, which is to make its initial appearances May 10 and 11, will encounter manager Andy Cohen's Chicago White Sox "farmers" May 12 for two games.

Charleston and Louisville follow the Braves into town before the Indians leave on another road trip.

The complete Indianapolis home schedule appears elsewhere on today's sports page.

Wichita will furnish the Indians the opposition when the Indianapolis club sponsors its annual July 4 fireworks extravaganza.

The American Association All Star game is slated for the 15th of July.
