

Cohen, Davis Honored on Opening Day

Andy Cohen, a popular Minneapolis second baseman for nine years under Donie Bush, will receive special recognition when "Play Ball" is heard at Metropolitan stadium Thursday afternoon.

Now manager of the Indianapolis Indians, the Millers' first home foe, Cohen will receive a special gift from his admirers to mark his return to the city where he contributed so much on the field as a player.

The presentation will be only one of several events that mark the first league game of the year at Bloomington.

Red Davis, Miller manager, will be the recipient of a huge cake from Mayor Eric Hoyer in behalf of the Minneapolis Bakers' association.

Then three mayors officially will usher in the season. Hoyer, representing Minneapolis, will throw out the first pitch. Fred Kittel of Richfield will try to catch the ball, while Bloomington's Gordon Mikelthun will be swinging at the plate as these three communities join in the celebration of the start of another season.

The U.S. Marine recruiting office will furnish the color guard for the flag raising ceremonies.

All this will start at 2:23 p.m., with the game starting at 2:30.

About 12,000 tickets have been sold for Thursday, but thousands still are available in all price ranges. The stadium box office will be open this afternoon. So will the agencies at Billy and Marty's and Duffys from Monday on.

CIVIC, OUT-OF-TOWN GROUPS START STADIUM TREK FRIDAY

Civic and out-of-town baseball enthusiasts will move into Metropolitan stadium for special occasions earlier than usual this year.

The Minneapolis Grain Exchange will be the first of many groups to appear in a group. They'll be on hand Friday afternoon.

On Saturday—day games continue through April 29—Elks from the city and state will join the first Knothole Gang of the season.

April 30, the first Ladies night is scheduled, starting at 8 p.m. following the initial nocturnal game April 29. The Maico Co. will be special guests May 1, while May 4 representatives from the International Milling company, Star and Tribune and the Pillsbury Mills will have their "night" for the first invasion by St. Paul.

From then throughout the rest of the season special events will be staged at almost every home game.

Firms wishing to attend games in a group should contact George Brophy at Metropolitan stadium.

Braves Hand Cincinnati Third Straight Loss 5-4

MILWAUKEE, Wis. —(P)— Helped along by a two-run triple by Bobby Thomson and a homer by Del Crandall, Milwaukee won its third straight game Saturday by shading Cincinnati 5-4 before 21,921.

The decision enabled the Braves to keep step with Brooklyn in the National league lead. The Dodgers also won their third straight game.

The Redlegs, who tied the all-time National league record for home runs in one season last year, produced their first two homers of the new season but couldn't evade their third consecutive loss. Wally Post and George Crowe hit the homers.
