Mayor Presents Cake to Wives of Millers

Mayor Eric Hoyer of Minneapolis presented an anniversary cake, replica of Metropolitan stadium, to Miller manager Red Davis Thursday before the American Association opener with Indianapolis at the Stadium.

"The Minneapolis Bakers association, in honor of daylight baseball, want the players' wives to have this cake," Hoyer said.

Davis answered in thanks: "I know the wives will enjoy eating this and I hope the fans will enjoy the Miller ball club just as much this season."

On behalf of the Minneapolis Baseball club, Halsey Hall presented a portable radio to Andy Cohen, Indianapolis manager who used to play second base for Minneapolis in the 1930s.

"Nice to be back — I was going to say at Nicollet park — but I should say Minneapolis and your beautiful, new stadium," Cohen accepted.

Hoyer threw the first ball with Mayor Fred Kittel of Richfield catching and batter Gordon Micklethun, mayor of Bloomington, fouled off the opening pitch.

The marine color guard raised the flag.
