

Five-hitter for Freeman

Minneapolis' bleak performance matched the dark and dismal weather Saturday afternoon as Denver's Bears completed a sweep of the three-game battle for second place.

The score was 7-0, and the Millers teetered on the edge of fifth place as tall Mark Freeman handed them their 17th shutout of the season, three of them inflicted by Freeman.

Taking his time in the drizzle which fell through most of the game and fighting off attacks of wildness, Freeman limited the Millers to five hits to record his 12th victory. He struck out 10.

Not even the lights, which were turned on in the fourth inning, could help the home athletes. They made a couple of threats, filling the bases with two out in the third and again with one out in the eighth, but the 6-5 ex-Louisiana State basketball player weathered the difficulty.

Al Schroll battled the Bears for six innings before going out in a weird six-run seventh frame and absorbing his seventh defeat.

Curt Roberts, Denver second baseman was forced out of action in the second inning with a bruised left ankle. That brought Gene Hassell into the lineup, and the little fellow figured in both of the Bear's scoring innings.

IN THE fifth Curt Hardaway led off with a scratch, and Hassell singled him to third from where he scored on Dick Sanders two-out single to center.

In the seventh Hassell singled again, and the big Bear burst was on. Freeman himself and Tom Carroll followed with bloopers to fill the bases, and Sanders' sacrifice play scored stubby Gene.

With two balls and no strikes on George Wilson, manager Gene Mauch brought in southpaw Tom Borland to pitch, and Denver's Andy Cohen countered with Vern Rapp. Borland completed the job of issuing the bases on balls and John Blanchard, who celebrated with eight hits in three games in his home town, singled for two more runs.

BORLAND also walked Gordon Windhorn. The fourth ball was a wild pitch which struck catcher Eddie Sadowski on his sore foot. As Eddie hopped around in pain, Rapp scored and Windhorn went all the way to second.

That was all, but it was more than enough for the 567 customers.
