

Millers Defeat Denver 4-1 to Take 2-0 Lead in Playoff

Trahan Proves 'Goats' Can Be Popular

"It was an inside pitch, and it just got away from me," sighed Max Trahan, probably the most popular man ever to be guilty of a passed ball in a World Softball tournament.

Trahan, 31-year-old Lake Charles catcher when Minneapolis fans took to their hearts for his play the last seven days at the Parade, wound up being voted the most valuable player of the meet.

And no one begrudged him the honor, passed ball and all.

Stratford scored on the play and won the title 1-0. But for Trahan, it was the end of nine games behind the plate. Well over 200 in weight and 40 inches in girth, Maxie filled in only because the Sports regular receiver Johnny Spring, author of the perfect game—no man's game—was injured.

"I'm tired," said Trahan afterward, "we're all going to sleep here overnight and leave in the morning."

Spring's work: "You can't ask for more than a perfect game from your pitcher. You know, he didn't give up an earned run the whole tournament. It was Cookey, Minn., which got an unearned run off Spring, who pitched a perfect game for Detroit in 1902. He's had immemorial others."

Cecil McDonald, sponsor of Lake Charles, told the press: "I'm glad that if we had to lose it was in a close one. No, I never thought 10 men could go this far. As a matter of fact, after we lost in that 14-inning game, we planned to drop out. We were best physically. We even got Gene Martin's okay, but we took a vote and decided to stay."

Schult Drives in Lead Runs in 8th

Minneapolis Art Schult and Lefty Bob Smith combined to prove Friday night was not a night for percentages in a 4-1 victory over Denver at Metropolitan stadium before 3,087 persons.

Schult's first pitch single to left in the eighth inning drove in two runs to unlock a 1-1 tie and Smith stopped nine right-handed hitters on eight hits to give the Millers a 2-0 edge over the Bears in the best-of-seven American Association final playoff series.

With first base open, two on and two out in the Miller eighth, Manager Andy Cohen of Denver had the choice of bringing on Lefty Ed Donnelly to pitch to southpaw-winning Paul Smith or walk Smith and let right-hander John Gahler pitch to the right-hand hitting Schult.

He chose the latter, and Minneapolis tied a national high with its fifth straight triumph as Art, who batted in six runs in the series victory over Wichita, drove in two more for four runs against Denver in two nights.

THE STAGE was set for Schult when Jerry Zimmerman opened with a single back of second base. Bob Smith sacrificed and Stu Locklin drove a walk. The runners moved to second and third when first baseman Zek Belia made a nice play on Pumpsie Green's bopper to toss him out at first base with his first error.

A notorious first ball hitter, Schult got Gahler's first serve right down the middle and grounded the ball to left, scoring Ed Sadowski (running for Zimmerman) and Green.

Red Robbins also homered a single into right field for a third run in the eighth.

SMITH, experiencing early trouble, steadied down the stretch behind twin killings in the eighth and ninth innings to take Denver on right.

Denver scored in the first inning on a one-out single by Curt Roberts, a two-run walk to Bela and Vern Rapp's two-out single to right.

Manager Gene Mauch drove in the fifth inning after Robbins' no-hit breaking single to left led the frame. Tom Umpfret dutifully sacrificed, and Mauch singled up the middle on the first pitch for a 1-1 tie.

The series moves into Denver tonight for the remaining five games.

'Set-Up' Schult Singles to Clinch Game for Millers

Art Schult says he'd never base-hit Denver for a victory than any club in the league.

"I was hoping I'd be wouldn't bring in the southpaw to pitch to Paul Smith and walk him instead and pitch to me," Art said after his game-breaking single for the Millers 4-1 victory Friday night.

They did walk Smith and I got the hit I wanted the most all season."

Lefty Bob Smith of the Millers admitted he got fatter in the late inning. "I was pressing too much early and was all right after I got over the rocky start," he said.

Miller Manager Gene Mauch, played at winning two while the pitching limited Denver to two runs in 18 innings, said, "If we get that kind of pitching and clutch hitting, we're in a good way even facing five games in Denver."

Stratford Wins World Title 1-0 on Spring's Perfect Game

By AUGIE KARCHER
Minneapolis Tribune Sports Writer

Island City, N.Y., Sept. 19.—The Louisiana McDonald Sports, ousted Long Island 2-0 in the afternoon before 1,842 fans and started the day by eliminating Seattle Wash. 2-0.

The difference last night was a one-hit fifth inning and a passed ball.

While Spring was moving down Lake Charles batters in succession with a record 47 pitches and in only 42 minutes, his rival, Bobby Spell, gave up two hits in the third and one in the fourth.

To open the fifth, Chuck Shearer, who got two of the four hits Spell allowed, doubled into left center field. Earl Garofalo popped to first and Spring sacrificed the runner to first.

Frank Williams, an inside pitch got away from Catcher Maxie Trahan and Shearer scored easily.

It was an unearned run and handed Spell his second loss against five wins. The hairy right-hander hasn't allowed an earned run in 12 games in World competition.

Spring's methodical job was a masterpiece. He needed only two nice-running catches from Shearer in right and Tony Phillips in left to haul in the only two blows that might have dropped for him. And those were the only balls the Sports hit out of the park.

Now 32-3 for the year and 5-0 for this meet, Spring pitched 12 and walked none. Spell whiffed four and walked one. In 56½ innings, 14 of them yesterday, he fanned 71 batters. He is 65-5 for the season.

LAWRENCE, KAN.—IT WILL BE AN INTERCONFERENCE test when Texas Christian plays Kansas here today.

Texas Christian is rated about third best in the Southwest conference, behind Southern Methodist and Texas. Kansas is rated about third best in the Big Eight, behind Oklahoma and Colorado.

We may say that TCU is not so far behind the two best in its league as Kansas is behind the two best in its league. However, that remains to be seen.

Last year, at TCU, these teams played a 13-1 tie in the past 10 years, playing annually. TCU has won seven times, Kansas twice.

Kansas was second in the Big Eight last year; TCU was sixth in the Southwest.

MITCHELL IS COACH

JACK MITCHELL, FIRST OF THE GREAT Oklahoma quarterbacks under Bud Wilkinson, is the new head coach at Kansas, succeeding Chuck Mather. In 19 years of coaching in high school and college at Wichita and Arkansas, Mitchell has never had a losing season.

TCU was a running team, using the split-T last year. This year, Coach Abe Martin has gone to a more versatile attack and will depend heavily upon the passing quarterback, Hunter Ellis. Ellis was a disappointment to his sophomore and junior years but started on the fifth team last year and moved steadily up to the first team. His talents seem to have flowered.

Harry Moreland, a sophomore halfback, is TCU's running threat.

The performance of TCU today is of interest because,

WASHBURN, NORTH PLATTE IN PREP FEATURE TONIGHT

With each team boasting the best all-around backfield in the city, Washburn and North settle their first-place argument in an 8 p.m. feature at Parade stadium tonight.

Washburn, which defeated Central 20-0 in its opener, has halfbacks Bob Kern and Buzz Anderson and fullback John Gahler. The Bears defeated North 19-0 in its opener.

North also has three members back-quarterback Marty Nordstrom, right half Gary Peters and fullback Dave Lewis. The Bears defeated North 12-7 in their opener last week.

The game was scheduled for tonight to allow Roosevelt and South's defending TCU champions to play (Chap Ramsey found a clear cut the feature last night).
