Columbus, host for a four-team holiday tournament December 29, will be seeking the third straight trophy and, according to the paper ratings, the Bulldogs are favored. But the Stonecutters and New Albany, plus Indianapolis North Central — new Indiana high school — want to end the streak.

Bedford meets North Central in the second afternoon game. New Albany and Columbus vie at 1:00 p.m. A report from Columbus says the tourney will operate on Central Standard Time.

THE FIRST holiday tourney at Columbus was held New Year's day in 1955, with Bloomington, Frankfort and Jeffersonville the visiting teams.

In the second meet the visiting teams were Jasper, Fort Wayne Central and Jeffersonville. In the 1956 affair, first round games were played December 29, 1955, and the consolation and championship games were not played until the following night.

SOME OF the tourney records at stake this year are:

Total points two games — Bruce Combs of Jeffersonville, 42, set back in 1955.

Individual High Game — Don Rees, Jasper, 29, set in second tourney.

Total Team Point, two games — Columbus, 121, second tourney.

Best Foul Shooting — Jasper, 15 of 17 for .882 in second tourney.

Most Fouls Hit In One Game — Jerry Records, Columbus, 10, in second tourney.

THE INDIANAPOLIS Indians "hit the jackpot" in their selection of Andy Cohen as manager of the community-owned Tribe in the opinion of baseball experts.

That was the consensus at the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues held at Jacksonville, Fla.

Owen J. "Ownie" Bush, president of the state Indians and Ray Johnston, general manager, reported in a joint statement:

"Everywhere we went during the convention we were congratulated on how fortunate Indianapolis was to have Andy Cohen as our new manager. He was described as a great manager and one of the most popular anywhere."

They also said that in the opinion of many at the convention Indianapolis was conceded a good chance to repeat its pennant victory of 1956 with Cohen at the helm.

The new manager isn't a stranger to the Indianapolis front office, however, for he played with Minneapolis when Bush was manager there. He replaces Kerby Farrell, recently named manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Now that the holiday season is getting into full swing, the Athletic Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is stepping up its campaign to sell 30-admission ticket books for 1957 Indians games at the bargain rate of $25. Fans save $8.

The ticket books are on sale over the counter or by mail at the Chamber of Commerce, 320 N.

Meridian St. or at Victory Field.

It is hoped to buy additional players through the ticket sale. The Indians own six players and 21 others have been assigned here so far under the new working agreement with the Chicago White Sox.

Restaurant Will Sell Tickets For Mitchell Tourney

The Mitchell Bureau

Advance tickets to Mitchell's Holiday Tourney will be sold all next week at the Cargas Restaurant in Mitchell, high school principal Lee French announced today.

The tourney, to be held on New Year's Day, will offer fans four basketball games starting at 1:30 with Mitchell to meet Salem for a second time. Mitchell romped away with Salem Tuesday on the Mitchell floor, topping the Lions 59-47.

The winner of the January 1 meet will face either Orleans or Shawswick in a finale at 8:00 p.m. Orleans and Shawswick play at 2:45 p.m., and there will be a consolation contest at 6:45.

THIS IS Salem's first appearance in the invitational tourney, now in its seventh year. The first teams called together at Mitchell for a New Year's Day tournament were Greencastle, Sullivan, Mitchell and Paoli.

Last year the tournament featured Providence, French Lick, Paoli and the Bluejackets. Orleans and Shawswick each have appeared in the tourney once previously.

It's believed that this tourney pairings, featuring four teams all from a relatively close area, will provide a more spirited and better-attended holiday bill than in past years. It may also give at least three coaches some idea of what to prepare for in the Bedford sectional, where Orleans, Shawswick and Mitchell will each be competing again.
