

Al Schacht, Baseball's 'Clown Prince'
... coach of pre-1936 all-Jewish team

Baseball Cleaning Up In Ethnic Sweepstakes

By TERRY KELLEHER
Herald Sports Writer

There's an epidemic of ethnic pride sweeping South Florida. Because of their peculiar genetic makeup, trivots are particularly susceptible. David Mitler of Miami Beach was the first reported case. His All-Jewish baseball team included "convert" Rod Carew. However, we have since learned that Carew only took instruction in his wife's faith without taking the plunge. There goes the team batting average.

Then came Doug Fennema of West Miami with his list of Italian-Americans who won the MVP award. That used up a week's allotment of vowels.

This week we have little choice but to present an all-list edition of the trivia column. Hey, it takes space to present Joe Wilkins' All-Jewish Squad From Before 1936. Thanks, Joe, for a real mind-bog-gler.

1B — Hank Greenberg

2B — Buddy Myer
SS — Sammy Bohne
3B — Andy Cohen
RF — Milt Galatzer
CF — Phil Weintraub
LF — Fred Sington
Catchers — Johnny Kling, Moe Berg, Hank Danning
Utility infielders — Jimmy Reese, Jim Levey, Jonah Goldman
Utility outfielders — Al Cohen, Maxie Rosenfeld, Harry Rosenberg
Pitchers — Erskine Mayer, Barney Peltz, Izzy Goldstein, Harry Kane
Coach — Al Schacht (ha, ha)
Manager — Jake Atz*

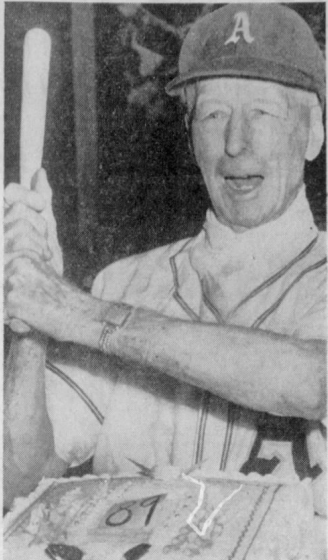

* — We can find no record that Atz, a utility infielder with the Senators and White Sox in 1902-09, ever managed in the majors. But like most "good field, no hit" types, he must have been managerial timber.

And now, the piece de resistance — the All-Irish team from Jim O'Rourke (God love him) of Fort Lauderdale. Jimmy boasts that "David Mitler's 'all-Jewish team couldn't hold a matzo ball" to his all-Hibernian club. After all, each of them is a Hall of Famer.

1B — George (High Pockets) Kelly
2B — Eddie Collins
SS — Joe Cronin
3B — Jimmy Collins
OF — Ed Delahanty
OF — Hugh Duffy
OF — Jim O'Rourke (no relation to selector)
C — Gabby Hartnett
Pitchers — Ed Walsh, Joe McGinnity, Tim Keefe, Pud Galvin
Co-managers — Connie Mack, Joe McCarthy

I would like to propose the following Irish benchwarmers: outfielder Frank Kelleher, infielders Mick Kelleher and John Kelleher, pitcher Hal Kelleher and catcher Duke Kelleher (who appeared in one game for the Giants in 1916, and never got to bat).

Now all we need is an All-Polish team. Come on, trivots.

The Legendary Connie Mack
... co-manager of all-Irish team