

Arizona Takes Win

Wildness Hurts Miner 10 Effort

It was a touch of wildness that offset some strong U.T.-El Paso field play and enabled the University of Arizona to take a 3-0 Western Athletic Conference Southern Division baseball win yesterday.

The two teams will play a doubleheader today starting at 1 p.m. at Dudley Field.

Arizona scored a single run in the sixth inning when, with two outs, Miner starter Ray Greggerson walked Martin Reid and gave up a run-scoring double to Donald Norris.

GREGGERSON, who is recovering from a foot injury, had control problems once more in the eighth inning when he issued his fifth walk of the game to Ben Heise with one out. Marvin Thompson then singled to move Heise to third.

Miner coach Andy Cohen then brought in relief pitcher Jeff Hogan, who allowed Thompson to steal second base. Hogan walked Reid and Norris in succession to force in Arizona's second run of the game. Cat first baseman Robert Stanke drove in Thompson on an infield grounder.

U.T.-El Paso had three pick-off attempts work: Greggerson picked Norris off first base in the second inning and Miner catcher Tim Peden plucked off both Thompson (from second base) and Stanke (off first) in the sixth inning.

WHILE THE Miners also converted two double plays,

Arizona proved just as sharp with three twin-killings.

U.T.-El Paso had several opportunities to spurt a rally, but could not get any clutch hits.

"We might have tried to run a little bit more in the game," Cohen felt, "but the way we were hitting, it would not have helped much.

"Their pitcher (Dave Breuker) threw the ball hard all of the time. He hurled a heck of a good ball game. Our pitcher had a steady game, but they (Arizona) just got to him well."
