

Miners Sweep Pair

Modlinski, Dau Are Near Perfect

Neither Dan Modlinski or Steve Dau were perfect, but Andy Cohen would take their performances any time.

Modlinski, a senior from Chicago, allowed just one batter to reach base — on an error — as he hurled U.T.-El Paso to a 3-0 victory over Texas Tech in the Miners' 1975 opener.

Ron Wrobel gave UTEP its second win with a 3-1 decision in the nightcap.

RONNIE MATTSON was the only Red Raider to reach base in the opener when he lofted a fly ball to centerfield, which was dropped by Dau. That fly ball was only to be one of three hit out of the infield all day off of Modlinski, who struck out five.

Dau made up for his mistake two innings later.

Terry Dillingham led off the Miners' third with a walk. Keith Rushing singled to left and David Nance filled the bases with an infield single. Art Bravo popped out. Dau delivered a two-run base hit to left center. A wild pitch by Tech's John Davidson allowed Nance to score the third run of the inning.

Wrobel scattered six hits in the night cap and fanned nine batters. Wayne Larson drove in two runs with a double and a single.

College Basketball

By United Press International
East

Adelphi 67 Pace 57
Albany St. 62 Potsdam St. 56
Bates 70 St. Anselm's 64
Babson 90 Nasson 86
Barrington 87 King's 73
Bowie 50 Md. Baltimore 47
Bridgewater St. 90 N. Adams St. 78
Brown 80 Cornell 73
Buffalo St. 73 Oneonta St. 68, of Columbia 78 Yale 74
Colby 89 Trinity 73
Coast Guard 81 Worcester Tech 69
Colby 89 Trinity 73
Detroit 111 Troy (NY) 75
E. Nazarene 90 Nyack 69
Geneseo St. 78 Plattsburgh St. 47
Husson 122 Keene St. 94
LIU 84 Loyola (Ill.) 75
Mercyhurst 58 Lock Haven 54
Middlebury 66 MIT 60
NY Tech 107 Old Westbury 80
NY Maritime 63 Newark Engineering 57