

EL PASO HERALD-POST, Wednesday, December 8, 1971

Child Care Bill Veto Is Feared

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Key Senate and House Republicans were urged today by two of their colleagues to petition President Nixon not to veto a massive and controversial child care bill.

The House, on a 218 to 196 roll call vote, gave final congressional approval to the proposal yesterday when it passed a $6 billion authorization measure that included a two-year extension of Office of Economic Opportunity anti-poverty programs.

PASSAGE CAME despite a warning from House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan that the White House told him Nixon would veto the measure because local units, rather than the state, would have priority in operating the child care programs.

The measure would earmark $1 billion of the $6 billion to construct, equip and staff day care centers or to fund programs using existing centers that would provide educational, health and nutritional services to pre-school children.

The sweeping array of services would be free to children from families with an annual income of $4,320 or less. Below-cost fees would be charged to other families on a graduated scale commensurate with the size of their income. Conservatives have attacked the bill, saying it would give the state child rearing duties that belong to the family.

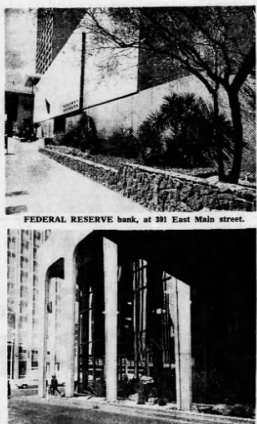

SEN. JACOB K. JAVITS, R-N.Y., and Rep. Ogden R. Reid, R-N.Y., circulated a letter in both Houses that will be sent to Nixon urging him not to veto the bill.

The letter cites a statement Nixon made Feb. 19, 1969 that he was pledged to a "national commitment to provide all American children an opportunity for beautiful and stimulating development during the first five years of life."

"This is an opportunity to fulfill that pledge," says the Javits-Reid letter being circulated among the 24 Republican Senators and 31 GOP House members who voted for the measure.

Maddox Raps Nixon
DALLAS (UPI) — Georgia Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox says President Nixon is a "political opportunist and a hypocrite" but that Treasury Secretary John Connally is presidential timber. "I think he's terrific," Maddox said yesterday while in transit for a University of Arkansas speech.

Downtown Cleanup Campaign Started

FEDERAL RESERVE bank, at 391 East Main street.

MUTUAL FEDERAL Savings and Loan Assn., at 328 Texas avenue.

The Downtown Clean-Up, Paint-Up committee, Mrs. John Jago, Mrs. Cramer Williams and Mrs. Malcolm Welch, hope to have the co-operation of many businessmen and merchants.

The committee members are canvassing the area to promote the idea of "Beautify with Greenery," making use of the Popular's idea of landscapers with shrubbery where soil is not available for landscaping, according to Andy Cohen, president of Beauty El Paso Assn., of which the committee is a part.

HE CITED the most significant projects in the Downtown Beautification Campaign made possible by the Federal Reserve Bank's example in landscaping. Listed are the covered planters filled with ivy, El Paso National Bank, planters of burned adobe brick filled with cacti, American Bank of Commerce flower planters, native plantings, Mountain Bell, and the castles, Mutual Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

The association noted the master beautification project.

Group Planning Funds Drive

Plans for a fund-raising drive to establish a large home for boys and girls were discussed at a meeting of the Concerned Citizens Committee yesterday.

Members of the governing board who attended were Vince Peltus, R. M. O'Kelley, Marshall Yaker, Harold Cumb, S. N. Chavez II, John W. Fry, Mr. and Mrs. James Krieger, Mrs. Katherine Blackmon, and a representative of Father Kahn Clinic.

The group announced that they are also continuing an investigation into the local Catholic cemetery situation and related problems. The members expressed concern over the fact that El Paso has only one Catholic consecrated cemetery, and charge that

Police Auto Purchase Is Questioned

The procedure the city used last week to buy $183,998 worth of new police cars was questioned today by Jack Key, new car sales manager of Mack Massey American Motors, a company rejected in the bidding for 177 steering specifications.

Key said his company's bid on furnishing 61 cars to the Police Department of the city included power steering even though that was the basis for the rejection of the Massey bids.

WAYNE McCarty, city purchasing director, said the spot low-income citizens have been denied proper burial there. Currently, a plan is under study to organize a second Catholic consecrated cemetery which would have lower cost and perpetual care.

on the bidding form where companies specify standard equipment of the cars being submitted on the bid was blank on the Massey bid form. Casa Fort Courtesy Chevrolet, McKee Dodge, and Dick Piv automobile companies all filled it in with "power steering," McCarty said.

Police cars are generally made up of what is called a "Police Package" at the factories of car manufacturers. McCarty said that package has included power steering for several years.

In addition to the blank space on the Massey bid, McCarty said the bid was accompanied by a sales brochure stating that power steering is an optional item.

MCCARTY ALSO said no one from Massey called him before the bid opening to ask about such items as power steering.

City Clerk Robert Gabel said someone from Massey called him after bid opening to say that power steering was included. "I referred him to Wayne McCarty," Gabel said.

Key said the cars originally proposed as trade-ins do not have power steering and that when questioned the mayor's office said they would not buy power steering this year.

When a provision arose about the bids and the power steering, Key said he called Police Chief Robert Minnie to relay information from the American Motors factory that their "Police Package" did have power steering.

"They first ruled us out when they said we couldn't bid on trade ins," Key said. "The specs are written for Plymouth cars."

MASSEY BID $187,311 for solid color police cars and $2,129 for blue and white cars. The winning bid by Dick Piv Motor Co. on 31 cars was $183,331, solid color for blue and white cars. Kemp Ford was low on the solid color cars at $183,175.

City Council awarded the contract for 39 solid color police cars to Kemp Ford, second low bidder after Massey American, with a bid of $95,384.

DICK POE Motor Co. received the contract for 27 blue and white police cars with a second low bid, again after Massey, of $79,868.62.

Poe also received the contract for nine blue and white cars for the STEEP program at third low bidder after both Kemp Ford and Mark Massey with a bid of $23,664.13.

the party has just begun

... and yours for dancing in a silk Pongee Print skirt and body shirt Long and lovely and to wear topped off in black. Absolutely smashing! Skirt: $35. Top: $18. Sizes 10-18. Dresses: Bossett, Northgate and Fifth Floor Downtown

the popular

a look any bag would be proud of Crinkle Patent never looked so good! And you won't recognize Plastic Calf! Those shoulder straps! Patent, Black, Brown, White. Plastic Calf: Silver & White. You'll want to take 'em to a party. $9. Handbags: Bossett, Northgate and First Floor Downtown

the popular