

Veteran baseballer Andy Cohen, more than seven decades young, retired last September from his coaching job with UTEP's baseball team, but says "I'm still running — errands for my wife." But don't look for Andy to totally abandon UTEP's nine. He's still available as a consultant when they need him.