

Austin and Ysleta: jury is still out

By FIG JANKOWSKI

The Austin and Ysleta baseball teams are about two weeks away from district play, and according to the respective head coaches, that will be the time to form any judgements.

Okay, fair enough. Yesterday's 11-10 affair between the two teams at the Ysleta field showed that both can hit the ball and run the bases with the best. But, both pitching staffs and defenses ended up turning the ball "every which way AND loose," causing Austin's win to be daylight-shortened to five innings.

"WE'RE GOING to hit the ball all year long and score some runs," remarked Austin Panthers' coach Leon Antwine. "We've got some problems right now with the pitching, but that will get straightened out."

Fred Colorado opened for Austin and lasted until the third when Ysleta tied things at five. Steve Smith entered then but needed help from Cerjio Martinez in the final frame. David Jurado took the loss in relief of Hector Femath.

Listing the runs would take all day, so suffice it to say that Doug Woods' first inning home run and extra base jobs by Fernie and Junior Salas led Austin. Freddy and Eugene Brooks plus George Quinones were the hitting stars for Ysleta.

Former UTEP baseball coach Andy Cohen attended the contest.

IRVIN'S David Capps threw his second one-hitter in a Rocket uniform, pacing the 6-0 decision over Parkland.

Irvin, 3-0 for the season, was led in the hitting department by Andy Bernal's bases-loaded single and Ed Sandoval's second home run of the year in the seventh.

"Bernal is a really good hitter and Capps has worked hard on his finesse," said Irvin coach Bill Onick. "He's been setting up batters with his curve ball, but his best pitch is his fast ball."

Parkland is 0-4.

IN OTHER action, Riverside followed the nine-strikeout pitching of Tony Barragan to move past Coronado 9-1. Barragan gave up just two hits to the Thunderbirds, now 2-2. Riverside is 3-1.

Bel Air outlasted Burges 3-2 as the Highlanders' Johnny Aguilar outduelled Pico Cordova of Burges. A two-run fifth inning gave the Clan the margin of victory.

Mark Simon won his third victory of the year for the Andress Eagles and
