

El Paso's yesterdays

FIFTY YEARS AGO

From the Evening Post of Nov. 23, 1929

The Red Cross total was $7080.14 today, headquarters reported. This included $368.40 turned in by High school and chairman of the school faculty. The later sum was in addition to the amounts expended by the teachers in the interests of the Junior Red Cross.

El Maida Shrine temple broke a long standing precedent last night for the second time, when it awarded two rings to two separate candidates. Dorrance D. Roderick and Andy Cohen, big league ball player, were the two who smashed the regulation which was shattered last year for the first time.
