

Telles, Berroteran, Cohens to toss 1st ball for Old Pros

Richard Telles, Sal Berroteran, Andy Cohen and Syd Cohen have been tossing out the first ball for the past 12 seasons in the Old Pro Baseball League--and they'll do it again Sunday at noon at Grandview Park.

The Old Pro League will open its 48th season at that time. Sixteen teams are entered. They'll be seeing action at Hugo Meyer Field, Shawver Park, Modesto Gomez Park and Grandview Park.

Last year's champions will be presented trophies at 1 p.m. and a double header will follow Sunday.

Others to be honored at the ceremonies will be Frank Campos, Victor Reyes, Rudy Carbajal Sr., Nico Fierro, Max Lopez, Pete Leyva, Beto Mendez, Pingua Canales, Campanella Galvan, Trini Gomez, Henry Dupree, Ismael de Leon, Manny Sosa, Sam Graft, Wally Vera, Enrique Porras and Cesar Alonza. All have been active in the league since 1964.

Awards will be presented to the Queens of the Old Pros--Mary Gomez, Juana Tovar, Librada Carbajal, Helen Sandoval, Bertha Forti and Bertha Franco.
