

UF Broadens Queen Test Competition

United Fund of El Paso has opened entries for the Miss United Way Contest. The annual beauty contest is open to all Fair Share Giver companies in the El Paso area.

Any young woman in El Paso area between the ages of 18 and 25 who works for a firm which gives its "fair share" is eligible to enter the contest. Judging will be held at 7:30 p.m. August 28 at Festival Theatre, Montana. The four man committee in charge of the contest is made up of Charlie Tupper, chairman, Mrs. Milton Leech, Andy Cohen and D. B. Parker.

Entries are judged on the basis of poise, personality, grooming, accessories and make up. Contestants will make one appearance before the judging begins. They will give their name, age and place of employment to the judges and then appear before the judges and audience in an after-five dress of their selection for the final judging.

Prizes for first, second and third place finishers will be donated by local firms. There will also be several consolation prizes.

Last year the winner was Miss Bernice Steely from the State National Bank. She won the title over 22 other contestants and received her crown from Maj. Gen. Richard T. Cassidy, Ft. Bliss commander.

Miss Steely represented United Fund at luncheons and banquets throughout the campaign, wearing her pearl tiara at all functions. She also won a $75 gift certificate from the Popular and a traveling trophy has been on display at the bank for the past year.

United Fund mailed nearly 300 letters this week to eligible firms in the area. Entry forms were included in the letters and should be returned along with a black and white photograph to Mrs. Joan Ferguson at United Fund no later than August 16.
